BLOODY RIOT OVER CORPSE OF THE RABBI

Funeral of Chief Rabbi Josephs at New York Marked by a Battle.

MOURNERS ATTACKED AS THEY FOLLOW HEARSE

Attack Is Resented and a Pitched Battle Ensues, in Which Many are Injured—Hose Used to Quiet the Infuriated Mourners.

New York, July 30.—The funeral of the late Chief Rabbi Jacob Joseph, head of the Orthodox Hebrews of the United States, which was held here today, was the occasion of one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever witnessed in this city and led to a collision between the masses of Jewish mourners and the police. The streets were packed with thousands of Hebrews, the stores were generally closed and every point of vantage along the route taken by the funeral procession to the different synagogues was crowded.

Directly in front of the house where the body has lain in state for the last few days more than 100 patrolmen kept the crowd from the entrance with considerable difficulty. After the services at the house the body was taken to each of the six synagogues on the east side, where brief services were held.

Missiles Rained on Mourners.

When the procession was passing the printing press factory of R. Hoe & Co. on Grand street, on its way to the cemetery in Brooklyn the employees of the factory emptied pails of water from the windows of an upper floor on the spectators massed upon the sidewalks. Pail after pail, it was said, was emptied on the throng, which shouted and struggled and stampeded in vain to escape. Then overalls and clothing soaked in water came down from above, and even tools, scraps of steel, bolts and a dead cat.

The angry populace, most of whom were Hebrews, retaliated by throwing back into the factory windows the missiles that fell on them. They also gathered up stones and sticks, and in a few minutes there was scarcely a whole pane of glass on the Grand street side of the factory.

Then some one in the factory turned on a hose and played it indiscriminately all over the funeral procession. At one time as many as five streams were playing on the crowd. Drivers of mourning carriages whipped up their horses, trampling over citizens and the stronger men trampled women and children under foot in their efforts to escape.

The police, in the meantime, had taken a hand in the trouble and were clubbing the people right and left. They were, however, unable to cope with the crowd and the reserves of half a dozen precincts were dispatched to the scene. It was more than half an hour before order was restored and the streets in the vicinity of the factory cleared. Many arrests were made, among them being several employees of the Hoe company.

Many Were Injured.

Many persons were found about the streets bleeding from wounds on the head and other parts of the body. Ambulances had been summoned, in the meantime, and three responded. Surgeons were kept busy for some time dressing the wounds of the injured. Several policemen also were injured, receiving cuts and bruises. Two men were taken to the hospital. One of them had sustained internal injuries and contusions and the other a sprained leg. Later in the day the persons arrested were arraigned in police court and fines of $5 and $10 were imposed in several instances. Bad feeling is said to exist between some of the employees of the Hoe company and the Hebrews residing in the neighborhood and this is said to have been the cause of the trouble.

Robert Hoe, of the printing press company, made a statement after the trouble was over, in which he says fighting was going on in the ranks of the procession as it passed the factory; that some of those attacked were forced to the door of the office and there the fighting continued, while missiles thrown by the crowd broke many windows of the factory. Then it was, says Mr. Hoe, that his employees tried to drive the assailants back by hurling missiles at them and finally turning water on the crowd. He added that boys working in the factory had been in the habit of jeering at Hebrews and he had tried everything in his power to have the practice stopped, even discharging boys of whom complaint was made.

After the riot had been quelled the funeral procession proceeded to Brooklyn, where the body of Rabbi Joseph was interred.

The funeral procession did not reach the cemetery, however, without incident As it passed through a Brooklyn street some one threw a heavy block of wood from the roof of a building into the line of mourners. The latter broke through the police lines and tried to get into the building. Threats of clubbing by the police finally restored order. Forty thousand people were crowded in and about the cemetery at Cypress Hills, in an attempt to witness the services at the grave.

SHE DIED TO SAVE HER CHILD

Heroic Death of Mrs. Connor, of Maryland.

Baltimore, July 30.—Mrs. Connor, the wife of George Connor, a farmer near Bayview, Cecil county, met with a tragic death at her home today.

Her husband was cutting hay near the house with a three-horse mowing machine and her 4-year-old child was playing in the grass some distance off. The horses became frightened and started to run toward the child.

The heroic mother, seeing the perilous position of the child, attempted to rescue it, but was knocked down and so mangled that she died immediately. The child was saved.

BLOOD SPOUTING IN COAL REGIONS AND TROOPS HURRY TO THE SCENE

THROUGH WOMEN AND TOTS DEVERY HOPES TO SUCCEED

EX-CHIEF W. S. DEVERY.

Between 15,000 and 20,000 Babies and Their Mothers Entertained by Ex-Chief Who Wants Votes of the Husbands and Fathers.

New York, July 30.—Between 15,000 and 20,000 women and children were the guests of former Chief of Police William S. Devery on a water picnic today. Devery is a candidate for the democratic leadership of the ninth assembly district, and the monster outing was a feature of the spectacular campaign he has been conducting. Men were excluded and the six ship loads of excursionists consisted only of women and children from the ninth district. It was the biggest excursion ever handled in this city. Two large steamers and four barges were secured to handle the crowd and Devery was personally in charge. Ten physicians, a corps of trained nurses, life savers, an opera company, a vaudeville troop and four bands were taken along and refreshments served in unlimited quantities. The chief commissary of the expedition had 150 assistants and the list of supplies was as follows:

One thousand pounds of roast beef; 1,200 pounds corned beef; 1,500 pounds of ham; two barrels of sugar; four tubs of butter; twenty barrels of potatoes; twenty crates of tinned tomatoes; ten crates of raw tomatoes; 500 heads of cabbage; 250 pounds of coffee; 2,500 large loaves of bread; clam chowder for 30,000 persons; 1,500 pounds of fancy cakes; 500 gallons of ice cream; 8,000 quarts of milk; 250 boxes of soft drinks; ten barrels of birch beer; 1,400 bags of pop corn and candy.

BASEBALL TEAM HIT BY TRAIN

One Man Is Instantly Killed and Six Others Are Injured.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 30.—The band wagon which was conveying the Ilion baseball team to Suburban park today was struck at the Broad street crossing in Lestershire by Erie train No. 2 and the driver instantly killed and six other injured, one seriously.

Both horses were also instantly killed. The dead and injured are:

CHARLES H. LEWIS, negro driver, Binghamton, skull fractured, instantly killed.

ARTHUR SIGNOR, 7 years old, Binghamton, left leg cut off, severe scalp wound, injuries serious.

L. W. HESS, Nanticoke, Pa., left leg broken, injured internally, bruised about body.

HARRY NESS, Nanticoke, Pa., pitcher Ilion team, back wrenched, bruised about body.

HOWARD J. EARL, New York city, manager Ilion team, back wrenched, badly bruised.

GEORGE HANLEY, Oswego, right fielder Ilion team, back wrenched.

CHARLES M. MORSE, Auburn, Me., pitcher Ilion team, back and neck wrenched, bruised about body.

The view of the track crossing is shut off by the station and a high bluff and the occupants of the wagon claim that the engineer of the train, John DeLaney, failed to blow his whistle or ring the bell. It is claimed by passengers that the train was forty minutes late and running 70 miles an hour.

The band wagon was descending the hill toward the crossing slowly, the brake being on. The players were laughing and joking and the horses were almost on the crossing when a boy, Harry Wheeler, of Lestershire, at great risk jumped on the track and tried to warn them. The driver, without thought of himself, turned to the others in the wagon and yelled to them to jump. He had plenty of time to save himself, but remained at his post, and when the train struck the horses he was thrown headforemost against a freight car and instantly killed. Catcher Shea, of the Ilion team, attempted to save the Signor boy on the front seat, but was unsuccessful.

Pitcher Hess and his father, who had come here today to see his son play, were on the rear of the wagon. When the train struck and were hurled 65 feet, landing on the tracks. The wagon was turned completely around and badly damaged. The horses were dragged 250 feet. The train ran nearly half a mile before it could be stopped.

FOR $120,000 COE IS SHORT

Treasurer of Dudley Hosiery Mills in Massachusetts Abuses Trust.

Boston, July 30.—With the announcement today of the assignment of the Dudley hosiery mills, at Newton Upper Falls, came a report in financial circles of the misuse of notes of the Bowker Fertilizer Company, to the extent of $120,000, by Treasurer Henry F. Coe, of the hosiery mills, who also had been treasurer of the Bowker company.

The report affecting Mr. Coe's financial administration was confirmed tonight by Frederick Higginson, who succeeded him as treasurer of the Bowker company three weeks ago, he stating that Coe had confessed to the officers of the Bowker company that he had taken the money represented by $120,000 in notes.

Mr. Higginson added that it was yet impossible to learn from the company's books the exact sum lost.

R. S. Gorham, counsel for the company, said that no action had yet been taken against Coe. Mr. Coe is between 60 and 70 years of age, and claims he did not profit personally by the transactions, the money going into the Dudley hosiery mills, of Newton Lower Falls. Coe was under bonds of $20,000 through a bonding company.

SHOT SON AND THEN HIMSELF

Insane Man Fatally Wounds Boy and Commits Suicide.

Louisville, Ky., July 30.—While in a fit of temporary insanity, as a result of a severe attack of pneumonia, D. P. Dye, formerly a barber, shot and fatally wounded his 11-year-old son, Carroll, and then committed suicide at his home in this city at 7:45 o'clock today. This morning after eating breakfast with his family he started upstairs to awaken his son, and a short time after he left the dining room his wife and daughters heard pistol shots from the room above. Hastening upstairs they found Dye on the floor dead with a bullet wound in his head, while on the bed lay his son, shot through the temple and unconscious. A physician was called and pronounced the boy's wounds fatal.

Over Twenty Persons Are Shot at Shenandoah, Pa., in a Riot Caused by the Strike.

TROOPS CALLED FOR AND GOVERNOR STONE SENDS TWO REGIMENTS

Over One Thousand Shots Fired in the Riot at Shenandoah and the Wonder Is More People Were Not Killed—Trouble Reported at Other Points.

Shenandoah, Pa., July 30.—A reign of terror compared with which the scenes enacted during the riots of 1900 seem insignificant held Shenandoah in its grasp tonight.

From 6 o'clock in the evening Center street, which is one of the principal streets of the town, was in the hands an infuriated mob. Two of the borough policemen were shot, one perhaps fatally. Joseph Beddal, a leading merchant and cousin of Sheriff Beddal, was brutally clubbed to death and upwards of a score of strikers whose names could not be ascertained were shot by policemen, and it is expected that many deaths will result.

Sheriff Beddal arrived from Pottsville at 7:45 o'clock with a posse of deputies. He took up his headquarters at the Ferguson hotel, which was surrounded by several thousand men late tonight. The sheriff after the trouble occurred asked Governor Stone to send militia and the governor wired that if the citizens of the town petition for the troops he will send them.

Attacked by Strikers.

The trouble started about 6 o'clock this evening, when Deputy Sheriff Thomas Beddal attempted to escort two non-union workers through the strikers' pickets. The workmen were dressed in their street clothes, but one of them carried a bundle under his arm and this aroused the suspicion of the strikers. The bundle was torn from him, and when it was found to contain a blouse and overalls the man was taken from the deputy and beaten almost to death.

In the meantime Beddal opened fire on the mob, which had gathered by this time, and emptied his revolver. Two of the shots took effect, one man being shot in the leg and the other in the foot. The deputy and the other strike-breaker were now compelled to fly for their lives and took refuge in the Philadelphia and Reading railroad depot. The depot was soon surrounded by an angry mob of 5,000, which was becoming more threatening and demonstrative every moment.

Joseph Beddal, a hardware merchant, and brother of the deputy sheriff, was seen making his way through the crowd

TROOPS ARE ORDERED TO SCENE OF TROUBLE

Harrisburg, Pa., July 30.—Governor Stone has ordered the Eighth and Twelfth regiments and the Governor's Troop of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, in command of General J. P. S. Gobin, to proceed immediately to Shenandoah, the scene of tonight's rioting. General Gobin left here shortly after midnight on a special train and it is expected that all the troops, the combined strength of which is 1,500, will be on the ground by daybreak.

The following message was received from the sheriff and immediately repeated to the governor at Paul Smiths, in the Adirondack mountains:

"Shenandoah, Pa., July 30.—William A. Stone, Governor, Harrisburg: Deputy sheriff and two assistants surrounded and one killed, three of mob shot by sheriff, three local police officers shot, one possibly fatal. Town is without police protection and local government terrorized, threatened by mob if they sign petition. Feeling running high. Mine workers admit foreign element beyond their control. Mob is beyond control, situation requires greatest haste. Sheriff powerless for want of sufficient assistance.

"S. ROWLAND BEDDAL,
"Sheriff."

Governor Stone started for Harrisburg at 8 o'clock this evening and expects to reach here on the Pennsylvania railroad's Chicago limited express tomorrow afternoon.

Should the presence of additional troops be needed to quell any further disturbances one or more additional regiments of the third brigade will be ordered out.

General Gobin, who will have command of the troops, was in command of the provisional brigade during the riots at Hazleton several years ago, and subsequently at Shenandoah.

FOR HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES GRAVE IN RIVER YAWNED

MISS HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES.

Sturgeon Upset Her Boat and the Southern Novelist Had a Desperate Battle for Her Life in the Delaware River.

Trenton, N. J., July 30.—(Special.)—Miss Hallie Erminie Rives, the novelist, had a narrow escape from drowning in the Delaware river while alone in a canoe near Cockran's island.

The sweep of the river from Trenton to Cockran's island is broad and deep. Miss Rives had nearly covered the distance when the arching body of a young sturgeon shot into the air and landed squarely in the canoe at the paddler's feet.

Jumping up, Miss Rives aimed a blow at the squirming sturgeon with the paddle, but the movement upset the canoe.

Miss Rives quickly grasped the overturned canoe and clung desperately to the paddle, with the aid of which and the current she managed after fifteen minutes' hard work to reach shoal water. Speaking of her adventure, Miss Rives said:

"When I found myself in the water, I began to think about getting out. That I reached shore safe and sound is due to the fact that I kept my purpose well in mind and was determined to accomplish it."

BAN OF COURT IS PLACED ON CORNER IN JULY OATS

Chicago, July 30.—The ban of the courts has been placed on the corner in July oats. On the application of Waite, Thorburn & Co., one of the firms heavily short in the July option, a temporary restraining order was granted today by Judge Chytraus, in the superior court, prohibiting James A. Patten and associates from continuing a corner in new July oats and from bidding up the price of the cereals, or calling for further margins. This is the first time in the history of the Chicago board of trade that dealers who are short have resorted to the courts to assist them in a dilemma like the present and the injunction came as a decided surprise, although drastic measures had been threatened to prevent heavy losses. The injunction runs against Carrington, Patten & Co., Patton Brothers & Bartlett, Frasier & Co. Default on 3,000,000 bushels of short new July oats, lawsuits and action by the board of trade are seemingly the inevitable results of the granting of the restraining order. Cornered and unable to secure new July oats wherewith to meet their contracts, the dealers who are short appear to have practically thrown up their hands.

Nothing To Do But Break.

"We have nothing to do but to default," said one of the unfortunates today. "Those in control of the corner will not sell, but tell us to go into the pit and buy. If we do that the price would go up into the clouds. A dollar a bushel could easily be exacted, as the receipts of standard new oats will not nearly fill our contracts."

Waite & Thorburn, the firm that requested the injunction, issued the following statement tonight in explanation of the course they have taken:

"For a year or two there has been a regular epidemic of manipulation and attempted corners in the market on the Chicago board of trade, which have inflicted immense injury on the legitimate grain interests of this city and in the country tributary to Chicago. These attempts to squeeze the trade have now become so extreme and unscrupulous that it has become high time for some one to make a fight and find out where the trade stands and whether it is to be for all time possible for groups of millionaires to turn upside down the grain business of the country and inflict heavy losses on the trade."

Shorts Are Blamed.

Frank P. Frasier, of Bartlett, Frasier & Co., said:

"There is an erroneous opinion current that Mr. Patten and myself, who each has a fair line of July, have been bidding the market up with the intention of squeezing the shorts. This is not the case. The shorts, in every instance of high prices, have only themselves to blame for putting the price up. We are simply waiting for the delivery of oats we have contracted for, and we expect their delivery."

Three million bushels is said to be the shortage in July oats. The greater part of this amount was sold, it is said, to those in control of the market at between 32 and 35 cents, so that there is more than 25 cents a bushel profit in the deal for those on the long side.

Instead of the market collapsing as a result of the adoption of a 45-cent marginal price yesterday by the board of trade directors, July oats advanced 3 cents today and closed at 63 cents.

RAGING FLOOD CLAIMS LIVES OF HUNDREDS

Feared That There Has Been Great Loss of Life in Texas Lowlands.

FIVE HUNDRED MEN CUT OFF AT ONE POINT

Nothing Has Been Heard from Them and It Is Feared Many Have Been Drowned—Cotton Has Been Greatly Damaged by Flood.

Dallas, Tex., July 30.—Advices from the state at large do not show improvement in the flood situation tonight.

A report comes from Hillsboro that between four hundred and five hundred men were chopping in the bottoms between Richland and Post Oak creeks, when the heavy rain fell Saturday, and it is feared that many of them were drowned, as no communication has been received from them.

The long continued rains have softened the railroad beds in many places where trouble has never been experienced before, and the southwestern portion of the state particularly is suffering at present. The International and Great Northern, entering San Antonio from the east, is almost completely tied up, and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road has abandoned that route for its fast trains. Lines in north Texas had trouble to contend with. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas is washed out between Dallas and Greenville, and trains are being detoured via Farmersville. It is expected that this damage will be repaired tonight. The water is over the tracks at Elmo, on the Texas and Pacific east of Dallas, but travel will not be interrupted.

Veritable Cloudburst.

There was a veritable cloudburst at Greenville last night. Trouble on the Santa Fe was confined to the Little river district near Cameron, and the main line and the Houston and Texas Central seems to have suffered the lease of any of the roads. Trains are running through both on that road and the Santa Fe. The Texas and Pacific is running trains west as far as Big Springs, and as far east from El Paso as Stanton, where transfers around the washouts are being made. The Texas Central has washouts between Whitney and Dublin.

The flood conditions in the Brazos valley continue to grow worse.

The river is again rising about Waco and the crest of the flood was only a short distance below that point this morning.

The weather has been fair in the Dallas district all day, and railroad men hope the worst is over.

The rains have damaged the cotton crop materially. The present crop promised to be the largest in the history of the state, but boll worms are developing rapidly and farmers are becoming apprehensive.

Up to midnight no further communication was had with the wood choppers, cut off in the bottoms of Richland creek.

Five Lives Lost.

A special from Austin, Tex., says five lives were lost and hundreds of head of live stock were drowned in the flood which struck the district located 40 miles southeast of there yesterday and the night previous. The district referred to is in Caldwell and Hays counties, and distant from telegraphic communication, and therefore reports are meager.

"EASY BOSS" PLATT HAS JUMPED INTO ROOSEVELT'S BAND-WAGON

Senator Calls on President and a Heart-to-Heart Talk Follows.

NEW YORK TO BE SOLID FOR ROOSEVELT IN 1904

Platt Assures the President That There Will Be No Republican Opposition to Him in the Empire State—Odell To Be Renominated.

Oyster Bay, July 30.—"President Roosevelt will have a solid delegation from New York state to the next republican national convention." This statement was made today by Senator Thomas C. Platt, of New York, after a conference with the president at Sagamore Hill.

Senator Platt was accompanied to Mr. Roosevelt's country home by Colonel George W. Dunn, of Binghamton, chairman of the republican state committee of New York. The visit was by appointment. Senator Platt and Colonel Dunn arrived off the J. West Roosevelt landing about noon and were conveyed immediately to the shore in a launch. At the landing they were met by one of the president's carriages and driven directly to Sagamore Hill. After a cordial welcome by Mr. Roosevelt, luncheon was announced.

During the two hours' conference which ensued, both national and New York state politics were discussed, the discussion quite naturally revolving principally around state affairs. Senator Platt briefly but comprehensively reviewed the political situation in both the national and state fields. He already had declared himself to be a supporter of Mr. Roosevelt for the presidential nomination in 1904, and he expressed the opinion that, barring serious contingencies, the president would be named to succeed himself. It was in this connection that he made the statement which is quoted at the beginning of this dispatch.

Mr. Platt assured Mr. Roosevelt that perfect harmony existed among the leaders and among the rank and file of the republican party in New York, and that without doubt the entire republican ticket will be elected this fall.

The story that Governor Odell might retire from politics to accept a handsome business offer was referred to, but merely in the form of a denial of its authenticity. Governor Odell has had, it is understood, several offers during the past year or two to go into business in a way particularly advantageous to him, but all have been rejected. He is a candidate for re-election and will be nominated in September, it is confidently stated by Senator Platt.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Senator Platt, leaning on the arm of Colonel Dunn, descended the steep flight of steps at the J. West Roosevelt landing to take the launch for the Sylph.

Physically he looks stronger and better than for several months.

To a representative of the Associated Press he said he felt "very well, indeed." In response to inquiries, the senator said that he and Colonel Dunn had had a very pleasant talk with the president.

"The object of our visit to Sagamore Hill," suggested Colonel Dunn, "was to discuss pending national matters with President Roosevelt, and to inform him of the condition of the republican party in the Empire State. Our interview was entirely satisfactory."

Platt Talks of Harmony.

Discussing the political situation in New York state, Senator Platt said:

"Perfect harmony exists among the leaders, and among the rank and file of the republican party in New York. President Roosevelt will have a solid delegation from New York state to the next republican national convention. He will meet no opposition in his own state."

As to his conference with Mr. Roosevelt, the senator said:

"We did not discuss local appointments with the president. The names of Ray, Sherman and Davies," referring to the contest for judicial honors in the northern district of the state, "were not mentioned. Our talk was particularly on national and state politics, conditions rather than personal matters."

In response to other inquiries Senator Platt, after announcing the assumption, of course, that Governor Odell would be a candidate, said:

"The candidates on the state ticket will not be decided upon until the republican convention meets at Saratoga in September. Of course the president has no candidate for lieutenant governor. He is urging the claims of no man."

In the brief conversation it was said by Mr. Platt that he understood Governor Odell would in a few days visit the president at Sagamore Hill, to discuss New York affairs with him.

An inquiry concerning the political future of Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff elicited that Mr. Woodruff would not be chairman of the republican state executive committee.

At 3:25 the Sylph weighed anchor and sailed for New York.

Aside from the visit of Senator Platt and Colonel Dunn, the president passed a notably quiet day.

SENATOR THOMAS C. PLATT.
He Assures Roosevelt of Solid Support of His Party in New York.

MAN IS SOUGHT BY THE OFFICE

No Rush To Secure Democratic Gubernatorial Nomination in Michigan.

BITTER ATTACK IS MADE ON REPUBLICAN GOVERNOR

Temporary Chairman Lucking Declares That Bliss Truckles to the Michigan Central Railroad, Which Is To Sue State for $27,000,000.

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—The democratic state convention to nominate a governor and state officers opened its session in Light Guard armory this afternoon. Nominations will not be made until tomorrow. There appears to be a lack of competition for the nominations. Several prominent democrats suggested for the nomination for governor have declared their unwillingness to make the run, among these D. J. Campau, of Detroit; Justin R. Whiting, of St. Clair, and State Senator James W. Helm, of Adrian, though Whiting and Helm are still regarded as possibilities.

Charles K. Sligh, of Grand Rapids, is being boomed by his home delegation from Kent county, and Judge George H. Durand, of Flint, a gold democrat, is supported by the seventh, tenth and twelfth districts.

Durand, however, is opposed by State Chairman Whiting and the silver democrats.

At the afternoon session Alfred R. Lucking, who was chosen temporary chairman, outlined the campaign in Michigan. He denounced in bitter terms the Michigan republican administration and Governor Bliss, whom he charged, upon what he termed republican authority, with truckling subserviency to the Michigan Central railroad at a critical time, when firm and active opposition was demanded.

"We are met together," he declared, "to devise ways and means to redeem the state of Michigan from misrule and to prevent a great contemplated raid upon her treasury and we charge that the republican platform promises upon the subject of primary elections are made to be broken as they have in the past."

Continuing, he said:

"A grave crisis confronts our state at this time. The Michigan Central Railroad Company is about to begin suit against the state for damages on account of the repeal of its special charter by the legislature of 1900. Under the law suit must be begun by December 31, 1902. The railway claims $27,000,000, according to the best information we can obtain. The people of Michigan are now called upon to say whether the Michigan Central Railroad Company shall have control of both sides of the case.

"During the campaign of 1900 it was repeatedly published in our state press that the present governor was the candidate of the Michigan Central and that it contributed largely of the money which was spent so lavishly all over Michigan to nominate him. Since his election it has been openly and continuously charged that he represented the Michigan Central and not the people."

Mr. Lucking further declared that the republicans were so buttressed in office that the people of the state cannot have any voice in the government for more than four years to come.

At the evening session Justin R. Whiting was reelected chairman of the state central committee. Nominations and resolutions will be taken up tomorrow morning.

GO WAY BACK AND SIT DOWN

That's What Democratic Campaign Managers Want Mr. Bryan To Do.

GRIGGS IS HANDICAPPED BY SHORTAGE OF FUNDS

Little Money Received at Headquarters To Conduct the Campaign. Effective Work, However, Is Being Done by the Committee.

Washington, July 30.—(Special.)—"Mr. Bryan should go way back and sit down. He has had his day in court, and could not make good, therefore he should step aside and give some other fellow a chance."

This is the substance of the inside conversation one hears around the headquarters of the democratic congressional committee. It would not be regarded as good politics for any of the democratic managers to pick out one man in the party and reprimand him for being officious without being effective, but at the same time there is a general feeling among those democrats, who are giving their time and what money they can raise, to promote party success, that Mr. Bryan is not doing as much to aid the democratic party as he imagines.

There is no disguising the fact that Mr. Bryan still has many warm friends in the city, but experience teaches that personal friendship does not always bring party success.

A distinguished democrat who visited headquarters a few days ago said he was astonished to see the amount of energy and activity displayed in working up public interest in the campaign, although the congressional elections are more than three months away. He said he had been up north and through parts of the west, and he found the leading newspapers giving an unusual amount of space to interesting gossip and speculation from democratic headquarters.

Little Money at Headquarters.

It is encouraging and gratifying to Chairman Griggs and his staff to know that their work is being appreciated, in view of the fact that they are running headquarters on short rations. Chairman Griggs has no big fat campaign fund to draw upon. The subscriptions thus far received have been neither numerous nor bountiful.

There is not a day in the week that the army of office seekers does not attack headquarters and demand employment at campaign work for a consideration. There are a few volunteers, but the majority of applicants expect compensation for their services. At present Chairman Griggs has employed a force of men and women to fold, direct and send out campaign documents These people make on an average of from $1 to $1.50 per day, according to the amount of work they do. Of course the number of employees is limited because of the slender purse of the treasurer of the committee.

Circulating Information.

Senator Carmack and Secretary Edwards, being experienced newspaper men, have established a system by which they manage to get wide circulation for such information and political material as they have at their disposal. They have out their scouts for every prominent democrat who comes this way. He is at once captured, brought to headquarters and assessed to the extent of an authorized interview on topics calculated to have more or less influence or bearing upon the political situation. As Secretary Edwards playfully expressed it: "We have good interviews for the good people; we have bad interviews for the bad people, and we have bum interviews for the bums."

One of the surest indications of the effective work being done by the democratic committee is that the republican papers are printing the interviews and endeavoring to explain away some of the stubborn facts set forth in the democratic bill of particulars. When you can force your opponent to the extremity of making an explanation, you generally have him at a disadvantage. It is the policy of Chairman Griggs to arouse general interest in the campaign through the newspapers, to pave the way for the "spell-binding" period which follows at a later period. People will read newspapers, when they decline to attend public meetings.

NO SPLIT CAME OVER THE TARIFF

Republicans of Iowa Reaffirm Their Old Platform.

Modifications of Tariff Shedules Demanded Where Schedules Encourage Monopoly—Roosevelt Indorsed as Candidate in 1904.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 30.—The republican state convention today named the following ticket:

Secretary of State—W. B. Martin, of Adair county.

Auditor—B. F. Carroll, of Davis county.

Treasurer—Gilbert S. Gilbertson, of Winnebago county.

Attorney General—C. W. Mullan, of Black Hawk county.

The only controversy was over the tariff and trust utterances of the platform, and that was settled in the committee on resolutions in favor of a reiteration of last year's utterances, with an addition to the trust plank congratulating President Roosevelt on the inauguration of judicial proceedings to enforce the anti-trust laws.

President Indorsed.

The resolutions continue:

"We indorse the president's recommendation as to reciprocity with Cuba and believe that this policy is necessary to preserve and complete the beneficent work we have done in that island and that it will be mutually beneficent to the people of Cuba and of the United States. We approve the determination of President Roosevelt to enforce the laws, wherever violated, without prejudice or favor. Approving his purposes and assured that he had the confidence of the people, we look forward to his election to the presidency in 1904 as to a foreshadowed event demanded by the popular will and one that will maintain and promote the national prosperity and conserve every national interest.

"We express our approval of the work done by the fifty-seventh congress in its first session. The legislation for the reduction of taxation, for the establishment of civil government in the Philippines, for the construction of an isthmian canal, with other measures of practical usefulness, distinguish the session. We urge that contention over our policy in the Philippines should now cease and the beneficent plans of the civil government be given the united and cordial support of all our people.

"We are earnestly opposed to all legislation designed to accomplish the disfranchisement of citizens upon lines of race, color or station in life, and condemn the measures adopted by the democratic party in certain states in the union to accomplish that end.

The Trusts.

"We assert the sovereignty of the people over all corporations and aggregations of capital and the right residing in the people to impose such regulations, restrictions or prohibitions upon corporate management as will protect the individual and society from abuse of the power which great combinations of capital welcomed.

"We cordially indorse the position of President Roosevelt in appealing to the courts to secure regulations that will control the industries of the people without legal sanction or public approval.

"We favor such additions to the interstate commerce act as will more fully carry out its prohibition of discriminations in rate-making and any modification of the tariff schedules that may be required to prevent their affording shelter to monopoly."

ENGINEER RUSHES TO DEATH.

Trying to Make Up Lost Time, He Wrecks Train.

Altoona, Pa., July 30.—Engineer John W. Kemmerling was instantly killed and his fireman, H. M. Nickley, fatally injured in a wreck at Pack Saddle, 60 miles west of Altoona, at noon today. Both men resided in Altoona.

Their train, the fast mail, which consisted of a big locomotive and three postal cars, left Altoona for the west about an hour late. Engineer Kemmerling was trying to make up lost time and covered part of the run at the rate of 70 miles an hour. At Pack Saddle there are two reverse curves, and the rules of the company call for a slow down at this point. Kemmerling, no doubt, exceeded the prescribed speed, for the locomotive left the track as soon as it reached the curve, and after plowing across the road bed, plunged over a 50-foot embankment to the Conemaugh river.

The engineer was crushed under the huge mass, and the fireman was so badly injured that death resulted in a few hours. The postal cars remained on the road bed and were not badly broken. Brakeman Bert McGinnis and three postal clerks were roughly shaken up, but their injuries are not of a serious nature.

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY ROCK.

Two Men Killed in Mine Near Birmingham.

Montgomery, Ala., July 30.—A special to The Advertiser from Birmingham, Ala., says:

In the Sayreton mines, near here, today a break in the roof of one room in the mines caused a great mass of rock to fall and Camilo Castore and Pat Bazani, two miners, were instantly killed there. The bodies were found hours after. No coal coming from their room, an investigation was started, which resulted in the discovery of the accident. The Republic Iron and Steel Company operate the mines.

NEGRO CHASED WITH HOUNDS.

Posse in Pursuit of Murderer of W. H. Wilson at Dranesville, Va.

Dranesville, Va., July 30.—Detective Branch arrived here from Suffolk, Va., this morning with bloodhounds. The hotel was filled with men awaiting Branch's coming. As soon as he arrived the horses were saddled and telephone messages were sent to near-by places inviting mounted men to participate in the chase for Charles Craven, the alleged murderer of William H. Wilson.

It was after 5 o'clock when the posse left the hotel and went in the direction of the place where the negro man was last seen. Should the dogs get on the man's trail Detective Branch thinks he will capture him before sundown.

TRIED TO KILL THE CAPTAIN.

"Sparrow" Walker, a Youth, Arrested at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., July 30.—"Sparrow" Walker, aged 14 years, who says he ran away from his parents in Asheville, N. C., was arrested last night by Patrolman Horn and charged with malicious assault with intent to kill. The assault was made on Captain Jim Dugan, of the Big Kanawha. Captain Dugan says the boy had been cutting open wheat sacks on the steamer, and when ordered to stop drew a knife and made at the captain. He was taken to jail.

Eczema

How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scales!

Some people call it tetter, milk crust or salt rheum.

The suffering from it is sometimes intense; local applications are resorted to—they mitigate, but cannot cure.

It proceeds from humors inherited or acquired and persists until these have been removed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla positively removes them, has radically and permanently cured the worst cases, and is without an equal for all cutaneous eruptions.

COTTON DUCK CORPORATION.

Dividend of 3 Per Cent Declared by the Directors.

New York, July 30.—A meeting of the directors of the United States Cotton Duck Corporation was held here today, and a dividend of 3 per cent was declared out of the ten months' earnings on the preferred stock, payable September 15. The statement of the corporation for the ten months ended April 30 last showed the gross income to be $2,435,468. The cost of material, labor, supplies, etc., was $2,204,136.53, and the current interest and expenses were $53,601.29, leaving a balance of $177,750.

Prior to the meeting of the directors those representing the Mount Vernon-Woodberry Cotton Duck Company, which is a constituent company of the United States Cotton Duck Company, held a meeting to take action on the question of the interest on the income bonds of gage, for the six months ending June 30, 1902.

The treasurer's statement of the Mount Vernon-Woodberry Cotton Duck that company, as required by the mort- Company for the six months ending June 30, 1902, showed a net income of $38,326. A resolution was adopted declaring that $150,000 of the income is applicable to pay interest on the first income mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds of the company.

Probably the last chance the navy department had to secure a coaling or naval station in Havana harbor was lost by the action of the Cuban cabinet yesterday in authorizing the lease of the arsenal grounds. This was the site of the projected United States naval station, for which it was admirably adapted by its position.

The war department has received cablegrams from Manila reporting the death of Second Lieutenant Albert L. Jossman, Twenty-seventh infantry, who died of wound received in action against the Moros at Bayan, Mindanao.

It is said at Washington that the commercial treaty between Great Britain and China, approved at a conference at the London foreign office yesterday, is to serve as a pattern for similar treaties to be negotiated by other powers with China. By the terms of the Pekin agreement each of the powers is to have equal trade advantages and privileges in China.

The differences between the striking electricians and the New York contractors having in charge the electrical workers at the white house have been satisfactorily adjusted and the men have returned to work.

The Empire Bridge Company, of Brooklyn, whose iron workers, numbering 600 men, have been on strike for about two months, has resumed with non-union employees. Strikers gathered in the vicinity of the works and denounced the new workmen, but a large force of police afforded the latter protection.

Twenty-three sacks of chaff or refuse of cane after the sugar has been extracted were brought to San Francisco from Hilo by the bark Santiago, and will be shipped east to be used in an experiment for paper manufacture. Thousands of tons of chaff are annually burned or otherwise destroyed on sugar plantations in the Hawaiian islands, but observing men believe it can successfully be utilized in paper manufacturing.

BLOOD SPOUTING IN COAL REGIONS

Over Twenty Men Shot in Riot at Shenandoah.

Riot Caused by Attack of Strikers on a Non-Union Man—Governor Stone Has Ordered Two Regiments to Scene of Trouble.

in an effort to reach his brother, and the mob, divining that he was carrying ammunition to those inside the depot, seized him and beat him with clubs and billies into insensibility. He died en route to the Miners' hospital.

Volley Scatters Crowd.

Shortly after this the entire borough police force arrived on the scene and escorted the deputy sheriff and his man to an engine which had been backed into the depot for that purpose. When the mob realized that their prey was about to escape they surrounded the engine and the engineer was afraid to move. In a few moments, however, the police fired a volley, dispersing the crowd for a brief period, and the engineer turned on full steam and got away with his men. Stones were thrown thick and fast about the heads of the police, whereupon Chief John Fry gave the order to fire. At the first volley the mob fell back and several were seen to fall. Their retreat, however, was but momentary. They turned, and, with revolvers, stones and even a few shotguns, they charged on the little band of policemen and made them fly for their lives. The policemen turned in flight at short intervals and fired volley after volley at their pursuers, but the mob seemed thoroughly infuriated and smoking revolvers had no terrors for them. When the Lehigh railroad crossing was reached a passing freight train blocked the progress of the police, two of whom were caught and brutally beaten. One of them, Stiney Yacopsky, will die.

Thousand Shots Fired.

It is estimated that upward of one thousand shots were fired, and the wonder is that more fatalities did not result. More than twenty strikers, all of whom were foreigners, were shot and at least two of them will die.

Many of the merchants and citizens are refusing to sign the call for troops, fearing that the miners will boycott them, and the governor has made the sending of troops contingent on the petition of the citizens, leaving it in douot as to whether they will be sent.

At 11 o'clock the streets were still crowded, but everything was quiet.

The doctors of the town have dressed the wounds of nearly forty strikers, all of whom were foreigners, whose names could not be ascertained. It is known at midnight that four policemen were shot. Chief Fry received a slight wound in the hand; Officer Yacopsky was shot in the neck and head, and may die; Ringheisr was shot in the hand and back, not serious; Lauritius was shot in several places and cannot recover.

The following printed notice was posted by the mine workers all over the town tonight:

"In view of the disturbances that have occurred in Shenandoah within the past twenty-four hours, in utter disregard to the teachings and principles of the United Mine Workers, as an organization, and contrary to the explicit instructions of the leaders, we call upon all members of the United Mine Workers at once to do all in their power to suppress lawlessness, and to aid the officers in every way to maintain peace and good order.

Postoffice Above Injunction.

Charleston, W. Va., July 30.—In the trial of John Richards and others today, the defense produced evidence to disprove the statements of prosecuting witnesses that the strikers cursed the injunctions, the courts and the marshals. Mrs. Alice Snyder, wife of one of the defendants, testified today that one of the guards employed by the Collins Colliery Company had met her as she was coming from the postoffice at Glen Jean and told her that she could not come to the postoffice again and that he had orders from Mr. Collins to prevent her coming there. Judge Keller leaned from the bench and in a deliberate tone, said:

"Madam, I want you to understand, and those with you to understand, that no person has a right to prevent you going to a United States postoffice, it matters not upon whose property it is located, and you are free to go there when you please and I will protect you in that right."

The guard was armed with a winchester, she said, and was employed by the Collins Colliery Company, upon whose property the postoffice is located.

Strikers Line the Roads.

Shamokin, Pa., July 30.—Hundreds of strikers lined the roads leading to different collieries today and prevented the non-union men from going to work. John Shipman and son, non-union men, were brutally beaten. Strike leaders are busily engaged in trying to calm the strikers, who have grown more restless. President Mitchell will visit here as soon as possible to address the men in an endeavor to keep them from breaking the law, and also to urge them to remain away from the mines.

Dynamite for Strikers.

Charleston, W. Va., July 30.—John Richards, president of the local organization of mine workers, received a letter from his wife today, stating that it develops that the marchers had done well to change the line of march as a dynamite mine had been placed in the road where they had been marching, and men were concealed in the roadside to touch it off when the marchers came by.

Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetter and Acne

Belong to that class of inflammatory and disfiguring skin eruptions that cause more genuine bodily discomfort and worry than all other known diseases.

The impurities or sediments which collect in the system because of poor digestion, inactive Kidneys and other organs of elimination are taken up by the blood, saturating the system with acid poisons and fluids that ooze out through the glands and pores of the skin, producing an indescribable itching and burning, and the yellow, watery discharge forms into crusts and sores or little brown and white scabs that drop off, leaving the skin tender and raw. The effect of the poison may cause the skin to crack and bleed, or give it a scaly fishy appearance; again the eruptions may consist of innumerable blackheads and pimples or hard, red bumps upon the face.

The emperor also presented an autograph photograph of himself to the designers of the yacht Meteor III, Harry Smith and Henry Barbey.

The foreign office announces a list of presents made by Prince Henry. Some of them were conferred by the prince while he was in the United States, but most of them were sent recently. David J. Hill, assistant secretary of state, received a gold snuff box bearing the letter "H" and a crown in diamonds.

Rear Admiral R. D. Evans was given an enameled photograph of the prince surrounded by diamonds. Major General Corbin's present was a gold cigarette case, on which was the prince's portrait in diamonds. Colonel Theodore Bingham and Commander W. S. Cowles, of the navy, each received a gold cigarette case on which was a crown in diamonds and the letter "H."

A bracelet bearing the prince's portrait in rubies and diamonds was presented to Mrs. H. H. D. Pierce, wife of the third assistant secretary of state, and to Mr. Pierce was given a framed portrait of the prince.

Other presents were given as follows:

Major Richard Sylvester, superintendent of the Washington, D. C., police department; John E. Wilkie, chief of the United States secret service; J. S. Stubbs, railway official; Cornelius VanCott, postmaster at New York, and J. B. Reynolds, secretary to the mayor of New York, diamond scarf pin; McDougall Hawkes, stock commissioner, New York, diamond scarf pin; Thomas Sturgis, fire commissioner, New York, and Detective Thurston, New York, gold cuff buttons; Police Inspectors Cortright, Brooks, Harley, Thomas Thomson, Kane and Coss; Police Captains Schmittberger and Wendell and Captain Smith, of the harbor police, all of New York; assistant Superintendent Hunsderfer, of the Pinkerton bureau; Mr. Deutsch, who was telegraph agent at the Thirty-fourth street pier, New York, where the Hohenzollern lay, and Louis Murphy, of the United States secret service, all receive scarf pins.

A., and several members of his staff; former Secretary of the Navy John D. Long, General H. V. Boynton, George W. Boyd, of the Pennsylvania railroad; Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, and the newspaper men who were on Prince Henry's train.

Why Hayes Was Ignored.

Baltimore, July 30.—Much comment was occasioned here today when it was found that Mayor Hayes was not among those upon whom the emperor of Germany had conferred decorations incidental to the recent visit to this country of Prince Henry. It is suggested that Mayor Hayes in his address to Prince Henry made no reference to the emperor. He referred to the prince, however, as "the grandson of that noble English woman, Queen Victoria." It is thought the omission of the mayor, as well as his reference to the English queen, was regarded as a breach of royal etiquette and piqued the German sovereign.

CUBA WILL COME IN DUE SEASON

So Say Members of Society of Cuban Planters.

They Declare That All Favor Annexation to the United States, but That the Time Has Not Yet Arrived—Planters Seek Loan.

Havana, July 30.—At a general meeting of the Society of Cuban Planters, held here today, the executive committee proposed a programme which was subsequently adopted.

The first clause of the programme is to the effect that the society declares itself to be exclusively an economic body. A member of the executive committee explained that, although the society had never been anything else, certain newspapers and people had raised a storm against it on account of the rumors that the society intended to change its plan of action, but that if the planters were enemies of the present Cuban regime they would stop work on their estates, and would thus show what they could do. Replying to the speaker, one of the planters present complained that the society was not sufficiently represented in the press, and that it had no means of putting before the people what it considered best for the country.

Other articles of the programme support the plan of Emilio Terry, secretary of agriculture, to raise a loan of $4,000,000 to assist Cuban planters and for the establishment of mortgage banks. The programme also sets forth that the society considers necessary the payment of the Cuban army.

Regarding the rumors that the society intended to declare for annexation, these were said to be due to some members who favored the step, but who did not appear at the meeting to support it. In the course of a speech, one prominent planter said:

"We are all annexationists, but the time for annexation has not yet arrived."

Perfecto Lacoste, formerly secretary of agriculture, and at one time mayor of Havana, was elected president of the new executive committee. In a speech Senor Lacost said he accepted this office to show that he was not afraid of being burned out, as The Republica Cubana had declared the Cubans would burn the island rather than accept annexation. He said the planters did not dare to declare in favor of annexation, although there were a great number of annexationists in the island.

Other speakers said that if the economic situation of Cuba became worse, and the working people were made to feel the pinch, then would be the time to declare for annexation. Still other speakers said they looked to the United States to do everything in the matter of ultimate annexation.

About twenty-five planters attended the meeting.

PRINCESS TO ESCAPE BAN OF HOLY CHURCH

PRINCESS ROSPIGLIOSI.

Vannuttelli's Appointment May Result in Good to the Princess Pospigliosi, Who Has Been Banned by the Catholic Church.

Rome, July 30.—The appointment of Cardinal Vincent Vannuttelli to be prefect of the propaganda of the sacred congregation of bishops and regulars and of regular discipline, it is thought here, will afford Prince Joseph Rospigliosi an opportunity to obtain a church annulment of the former marriage of his wife to Colonel Frederick H. Parkhurst, of Bangor, Me. In case of such annulment the prince will be able to have a Catholic solemnization of his marriage. Cardinal Vannuttelli always has been favorable to Prince Rospigliosi, and all questions concerning marriages are decided by Cardinal Vannuttelli's new office.

Mrs. Marie Jennings Reid Parkhurst, of Washington, the divorced wife of Colonel Frederick H. Parkhurst, of Bangor, Me., was married at Rome on August 26, 1901, to Prince Joseph Rospigliosi, head of an ancient family of clerical nobility and whose brother is commandant of the papal noble guard. The ceremony was civil because Mrs. Parkhurst was a divorced woman. Early in the present month Princess Rospigliosi, who was on the point of confinement, engaged an English Blue sister as a nurse and the nurse took up her duties. Cardinal Marchiesi, of the apostolic briefs, forbade the sister to fulfill her duties, on the ground that the princess' marriage was non-existant.

Pleased by Gotti's Appointment.

Rome, July 30.—Cardinal Gotti, the newly appointed prefect of the propaganda, said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"I neither expected nor wished my appointment, but like a soldier, when my chief commands, I obey."

The appointment has produced a favorable impression. It is generally believed that American affairs will be dealt with under Cardinal Gotti with greater equanimity than under his predecessor, Cardinal Ledochowski, who had the reputation of favoring Irish-Americans and Poles to the detriment of Irish-Americans.

Mrs. Esther M. Milner, DeGraff, Ohio, writes:

"I was a terrible sufferer from female weakness and had the headache continually. I was not able to do my housework for my husband and myself. I wrote you and described my condition as near as possible. You recommended Peruna. I took four bottles and was completely cured. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine and have recommended it to my friends with best results.—Mrs. E. M. Milner.

Miss Mamie Groth, Platteville, Wis., writes: "Accept a grateful girl's thanks for the wonderful help I have received through the use of Peruna. Although I looked well and strong I have for several years suffered with frequent headache and would for several days have splitting headaches. I did not wish to fill my system with poisonous drugs, and so when several of my friends advised me to take Peruna, I asked my physician what he thought of it. He recommended it and so I took it and am entirely without pain of any kind now."—Miss Mamie Groth.

CRAZY SNAKE'S FOLLOWERS ARE BAGGED BY MARSHAL

Muskogee, Ind. T., July 30.—Marshal Bennett, with a corps of deputies, arrived tonight with eight Creek Indian prisoners captured at the Hickory Ground Monday.

None of the eight can speak a word of English. The officers returned yesterday to the scene of the capture to get one of the band who was shot, but his friends had smuggled him away. The eight were placed in jail here, charged with conspiracy. Pin Harjo is the leader, and is known as the "War Speaker" to the believers of the word of Chitto Harjo.

The prisoners are members of the Crazy Snake band of full bloods, who are fanatically opposed to the impending dissolution of the tribal government. The gathering at the Hickory Ground was for the purpose of turning the Creek council from its intention of abandoning tribal relations. However, the council has ratified the agreement with the federal government. Berry Brunner, a member of the council, was recently assassinated, presumably by the members of the tribal faction.

Isparhecher, the aged ex-chief of the Creeks, has sent the following telegram from his home in the Creek nation to United States Marshal Bennett:

"Send officers to my house. I am in trouble. Do not fail."

Isparhecher has recently been subjected to many indignities at the hands of the full bloods known as the Snakes, who are opposing the dissolution of their tribal government, and it is believed that they have threatened the ex-chief.

FAST CLOSING IN ON CASTRO

Downfall of the President of Venezuela Seems To Be Very Near.

REBELS ARE SWARMING ALL OVER THE REPUBLIC

However, if Castro Can Win One Battle He May Yet Be Able To Make Headway Against Men Who Are Seeking His Overthrow.

Willemstad, July 30.—The eastern ports of Venezuela, including Barcelona, have been abandoned by President Castro, all of whose forces and resources are being concentrated near La Victoria, which is three days distant from Caracas and which is near the mountainous district of Guarico, where the advance guard of revolutionists under General Mendoza appeared some days ago.

General Mendoza's forces retreated, however, to join General Mateo's army, which today was in the neighborhood of El Sombrero and advancing by forced marches. Once these two forces effect a junction it is expected that they will take the offensive against President Castro. The situation of the government is far from clear, notwithstanding the revolution seems lacking in unity and direction.

Although there is much opposition to President Castro, he still controls the situation and a single defeat inflicted to the revolutionists probably would render him the arbiter of the country's future. The president intends to leave Caracas for La Victoria Thursday. The revolutionists have reappeared on the outskirts of Caracas.

HE WAS GLAD TO BE ARRESTED

Negro Charged With Shielding Criminal Is In Savannah Jail.

Savannah, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Wesley Hering, a negro living at Pooler, near Savannah, was arrested today and lodged in jail here. He is charged with being accessory after the fact in the case of assault of Mrs. John Smith, at Tutons Mill, Bryan county, by John Wise, who expiated his crime at the hands of a mob three days ago.

Hering shielded Wise, keeping him at his house for two or three days. It is said that some of the white men in and around Pooler had determined to whip Hering next Saturday night and drive him from the town. A citizen of Pooler came to Savannah and swore out the warrant. It is said Hering, apprehending rough treatment at Pooler, was glad to be arrested.

Government Is Determined To Root Out the Organization and Stop Murder in Sicily—Convicted Men Given Long Terms in Prison.

Bologna, Italy, July 30.—The trial before the Asiz court, which had been going on for some time, of Trapani, Fontana and Palizzolo, the latter a former deputy from Palermo, on charges of murder, was concluded at 11 o'clock tonight.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty against Trapani and Palizzolo for the murder of Signor Miceli, and against Fontana and Palizzolo for the murder of Signor Nartopoli.

Sentences of thirty years' imprisonment were imposed upon the three guilty men, who are members of the Mafia.

The proceedings against Palizzolo were considered particularly important, being regarded as the corner stone of the efforts of the Italian government to overthrow the Sicilian Mafia.

The negro had not been seen in San Antonio previous to the crime.

Norcross, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Mrs. Marcilla Lively, wife of C. P. Lively, one of the most prominent citizens of Norcross, died at her residence here last Saturday morning shortly after midnight of paralysis. Mrs. Lively was 54 years of age. She was a daughter of Judge Walker, of Belton, and a sister of Frank Walker, of this place, and Mrs. Mary McAfee, of Atlanta. She was a consecrated Christian woman and beloved by all. Her funeral was preached in the Methodist church here Sunday morning, by Rev. Wallace Rogers, assisted by Rev. Mr. Twitty, of the Baptist church, and her remains were interred in the cemetery at this place. Besides her husband, she leaves two children, Miss Roberta Lively and Henry Lively, to mourn her loss.

SALE OF LIQUOR TO WOMEN BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Washington, July 30.—A case was docketed in the United States supreme court today intended to test the right of municipal corporations to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors to females. The case is that of Daniel Cronin versus the city of Denver, Colo. Cronin is the owner of a saloon and opened a wine room for women.

The record shows that he asked for injunction to restrain the city from enforcing an ordinance prohibiting the maintenance of such a place, claiming that the law is unconstitutional, because it discriminates against women, and also because it deprives him of property without due process of law.

He contended that he had as much right to sell liquor to women as to men, and that they have as much right to drink as men have. He also referred to the circumstance that equal suffrage prevails in Colorado, and argued that since women had been given the right of suffrage they stand on the same footing in all respects and hence "are entitled to the pursuit of happiness and the same rational enjoyment as their brothers."

The district court upheld this contention, but the finding was overruled by the state supreme court.

A select parliamentary committee decided to take no action in the case.

10 Cents per Week Delivered In the City by Carrier System

THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION

From 50 to 56 Pages---Including The Sunny South.

AND THE DAILY CONSTITUTION

10 Cents per Week Delivered In the City by Carrier System

THIS means that you get The Daily Constitution for less than one cent a copy, delivered before breakfast by carrier in any part of the city, or in any local suburb that is reached by carrier system. If you do not subscribe to The Sunday Constitution it is because you buy it each Sunday---everybody does---and pay five cents for it. Why not pay a nickel more---10 cents in all---and get The Daily and Sunday Constitution delivered by carrier at your home. Thus, for the additional five cents you get six issues of the best daily paper in the south for less than one cent a copy. For ten cents you can secure each week The Sunday Constitution, which averages 50 pages, The Sunny South and the daily, which averages 12 pages; or, in concise figures, more than 12 ten-page papers for ten cents, delivered before breakfast.

The Sunday Constitution is not given away—it is not thrown into homes free of cost—for the white paper alone is worth the amount paid for it, without figuring the cost of special features, the telegraph tolls and the infinite amount of work by hundreds of trained men required to accomplish the feat of producing the best, biggest and brightest Sunday paper in the south. The Constitution, Sunday and Daily, has access to the cable service of two of the biggest and most enterprising dailies in the north. The Sunday Constitution prints the only really national funny features---all the others are admittedly outclassed. "After you, my dear Alphonse," is a phrase that usage has made historic; "Foxy Grandpa" is the acme of delight to old and young; and those funny Katzenjammer Kids, their Ma and Uncle Heinie remind the grown-ups of childhood days, and present to the children a mirror of their pranks. These features are great because they are simple, natural, not stilted, not weird---they are human!

Double the circulation of any other Sunday paper printed between New Orleans and Washington—a fact! That means circulation! The Sunday Constitution is too big and too good to be given away. People want it! They buy it. They get more than their money's worth. And by adding just a nickel they can get the daily—Sunday and daily, ten cents per week.

Advertisers are not spending their money for fun! They experience no joy in throwing away coin on publications that bring no returns. A few week ago one advertiser tried an Atlanta Sunday newspaper to the exclusion of The Sunday Constitution. In three weeks he had returned to The Sunday Constitution. He wanted value received for his money and that is what he gets when he advertises in The Sunday Constitution. But he is only one of many, as the following figures attest:

In the First Four Sundays in July, 1902, a Total of Advertisements Amounting to . . . 427 Columns

SHOWING A GAIN OF MORE THAN ONE PAGE OF ADS. IN FOUR WEEKS.

For four weeks ending June 29, 1902, The Constitution contained 62 pages more than its nearest contemporary, three times as many advertisements and one-third more reading. For three weeks ending July 20, 1902, The Sunday Constitution contained again more than three times as much advertising as its nearest contemporary; or the three Sunday issues combined of The Constitution's nearest contemporary contained 99 columns, while any one issue of The Constitution contained from 103 to 107 columns of ads. That is—

Each Sunday Constitution for the past three weeks contained more advertising than the combined three issues of its nearest contemporary.

BY LARGE VOTE WILKES IS DRY

Lyndon and Hardin Defeated by Anti-Dispensary Faction.

Contest Has Been a Bitter One—Tie Vote for Senator in Lee County and Another Race Will Follow — A Quiet Election.

Washington, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The dispensary fight which has been quite a live issue in Wilkes county politics since the last session of the legislature was closed today when the anti-dispensary faction was victorious in the democratic primary by a majority of 140.

The settlement of the dispensary issue depended upon the result of the legislative fight. Captain Charles A. Alexander and Columbus Granade defeated Dr. G. E. Lyndon and P. D. Hardin.

During the last session of the legislature a bill was introduced by Dr. G. E. Lyndon, who was then senator from the twenty-ninth district, establishing a dispensary in Washington. The bill received the indorsement of Hon. P. D. Hardin, who was one of the representatives of Wilkes, and was not opposed by Rev. J. A. Shank, the other. Nevertheless, such strong opposition developed that Governor Candler only consented to sign the bill on the condition that it would be left to the white voters of the county before going into effect.

The bill provided for the opening of the dispensary on November 1. The successful nominees in today's primary are pledged to secure the repeal of the bill creating the dispensary. As soon as the legislature opens they will introduce such a bill. Wilkes has been dry since the fall of 1898.

The contest was a bitter one. Both sides were confident of victory, though the anti contingent has been considered the favorite since the county went for Guerry in the gubernatorial primary. For the past few months the dispensary issue has monopolized the space of the local papers. The Washington Reporter opposed the dispensary, and The Gazette-Chronicle favored it. The dispensaries take their defeat gracefully.

County officers were nominated as follows: L. M. Hill, treasurer; S. A. Wooten, tax receiver; M. A. Pope, tax collector; J. W. Calloway, sheriff; A. A. Barnett, clerk superior court; W. G. Tatum, surveyor; C. A. Garrard and D. S. Standard, county commissioners.

Tie Vote for Senator.

Leesburg, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Primary passed off quietly. A. B. Duncan and J. F. Ferguson, candidates for the senate, tied, both receiving 132 votes.

J. M. McBride was nominated for the legislature by a good majority. S. B. Smith was nominated for sheriff. F. T. King was nominated for tax collector, D. W. Tison for tax receiver and D. D. Hall for treasurer.

The democratic executive committee will call a new primary election to settle the vote between J. T. Ferguson and A. B. Duncan, for the senate. The balance of the county officers had no opposition.

Very Quiet Election.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The quietest election ever held in any county in the state under the local option law was held in this county today with a result that was somewhat surprising. The prohibitionists polled two votes against the sale to one for the sale, with a total vote of something over 600. The bars will continue to operate until January 1, their licenses, city, state and county, reading to that date.

Killed by His Neighbor.

The dead man leaves a wife and four children. Little made his escape and is still at large.

Groom's Pocket Picked.

Columbus, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Thomas L. Watters, a well known business man of Brevard, N. C., and Miss Annie May White, of Upatoie, this county, were married today. As the groom was leaving for Georgia to be married his pocket was picked and he was robbed of $450.

Habeas Corpus Child Case Settled in Macon.

T. F. Hunnicutt Asks for Custody of Offspring by Divorced Wife, Who Had Married Again. Other News Notes of Interest.

Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—A rather sensational case was heard in the court of ordinary today.

T. F. Hunnicutt brought habeas corpus proceedings against his former wife, Mrs. Fannie Tankersly, for the possession of their two daughters, aged 9 and 11 years, who have been for some time in the care and custody of Mrs. Tankersly.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunnicutt each obtained a divorce from the other and later Mrs. Hunnicutt married Mr. Tankersly, and Mr. Hunnicutt also married. The children in question are the offspring of his marriage with Mrs. Tankersly. Hunnicutt did not think the girls were in proper hands, hence his effort to get control of them by habeas corpus proceedings.

Ordinary Wiley awarded the children to the care of the Methodist Orphan home.

Mayor Smith has attended several similar conventions of the league and has obtained many valuable pointers thereat for the government of a city.

CASE IS VERY INTERESTING.

Testimony Continues in the Rogers and Joiner Bankruptcy Hearing.

Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—At the outset of the hearing today in the Rogers & Joiner bankruptcy case Mr. R. M. Rogers, who was testifying, said that he desired to make an explanation of his statement at the hearing yesterday, when he stated that the salary of his son, R. M. Rogers, Jr., was $65 per month and his son owned three horses. Mr. Rogers' explanation was that while his son was in the employ of the Rogers & Joiner company he only owned one horse, but while he was at the works of the Rico Mining Company he had charge of three horses, but he did not know to whom they belonged.

Mr. Rogers said he usually drew about $250 a month out of the firm's business for salary, but he had no agreement with his partner as to what his (Rogers) salary should be.

Mr. Rogers did not remember how much money was cleared on the firm's contract to furnish provisions to the United States troops when they were stationed at Macon.

There were quite a number of interesting features brought out at the hearing. The examination was conducted today by Attorney Olin Wimberly. Mr. Rogers declined to answer what collateral he had given when $8,000 was borrowed from the Western national bank, of New York.

Oratorical Association.

Maysville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—A number of gentlemen met here yesterday and organized the Northeast Georgia Oratorical Association, the object of which shall be to encourage the art of oratory.

The association embraces six counties, viz, Hall, Banks, Jackson, Habersham, Franklin and Madison. Professor T. H. Robertson, county school commissioner of Hall county, is president; Professor W. H. Cobb, school commissioner of Franklin county, vice president; Professor P. Tellars, of Harmony Grove, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. W. B. Hardman, of Harmony Grove, offers two gold medals annually for the next ten years, the winner to be decided by oratorical contest, and the speakers chosen from their respective counties by similar contests in speaking. The speakers are to be from 14 to 20 years of age and bona fide students of the public schools in their respective counties.

The movement has been introduced to encourage the young men who are students in the schools to devote their spare time to the study of oratory, and to induce teachers to teach it in the schools.

DEM HUNT KILLED; STRUCK BY ENGINE

Was Visiting His Son at Lanett, Alabama.

HIS HOME WAS IN LAGRANGE

Lived for More Than an Hour After Accident—Was Standing on Track Watching Freight and Did Not Hear the Train.

West Point, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Dem Hunt, of LaGrange, was run over and killed by train No. 35 on the Atlanta and West Point railroad at 8 o'clock this morning.

He was standing with his back to the main track about 15 feet above the north end of the car shed and was watching a freight train on the siding. He was talking to a negro man shortly before and did not notice the approach of the passenger train, as the freight train was shifting at the same time. He was struck by the pilot on the left side of the engine and carried about 20 feet. The body finally stopped between the track and the platform of the car shed, a space of about 18 inches. Being on the left side, he was not seen by the engineer at all, and the fireman was just going back to the water tank preparatory to taking water here.

The body was removed to the Central hotel and was taken in charge by Dr. J. S. Horsley, Sr., the railroad's physician at this point, assisted by Drs. Hugh McCulloh and A. F. Harrington, but life remained only an hour and a half. The body was then removed to the undertaking rooms of J. J. Hagedorn & Co., where it was prepared for shipment at half past 4 o'clock to the deceased's former home in LaGrange.

Mr. Hunt was about 60 years of age, and was visiting his son in Lanett, Ala. He intended returning home at 9 o'clock this morning.

PURCHASE MONEY NOT PAID.

Sum of $11,000 Still Due and Injunction Granted Daisy Coal Company.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 30.—(Special.) Judge McConnell granted an injunction in the case of Thomas Parks, of Davidson county, versus Charles E. Wellborn, of Weston, N. J., and the American Coal and Railroad Company, a corporation in New Jersey. The injunction was granted to enforce a lien upon the property of the Daisy Coal Company and to further enjoin H. F. Rogers, register of this county, from recording mortgage upon any property or incumbrance by the American Coal Company.

James Adeylotte, of Tullahoma, and the plaintiff, Thomas Parks, were the joint owners of the Daisy Coal Company property and sold the property to the American Coal Company, represented by Charles E. Wellborn. For some reason the deed to the property was issued to the defendants before the property was paid for. Wellborn passed through the state and paid Adeylotte the sum of $45,000 as his share of the sale, but failed to find Parks. The sum of $11,000, therefore, remained unpaid. The complainant asked for an injunction in order to collect the money.

INTO CAPE FEAR OLD MAN LEAPS

His Attempted Suicide Frustrated, but He Dies from Shock.

MAJOR ABRAHAM WEILL WAS 75 YEARS OF AGE

Fought Man Who Saved Him from Drowning at Wilmington—He Was a Gallant Confederate Soldier—He Leaves a Large Family.

Wilmington, N. C., July 30.—(Special.)—Major Abraham Weill, for twenty-five years soliciting agent of the Atlantic Cost Line, and one of the oldest and most prominent Jewish citizens of Wilmington, died today as a result of his attempt to commit suicide yesterday afternoon by jumping into the Cape Fear river. The great shock, coupled with his extreme age, overcame his physical strength and he expired without having fully regained consciousness after his tragic attempt.

The causes leading up to his deplorable act are unknown to his closest friends. He has been in ill-health for a few weeks and the past day or two seemed blue and depressed. Without a word of warning to anybody he deliberately walked into the river yesterday, and by quick action a man standing on the dock at the time rescued him, but against the strong protest of the would-be suicide.

Major Weill was 71 years old. He was born in Germany, but came here early in life. He served in the confederate army. Since the war he has been prominent in the business interests of the city.

Deceased is survived by seven children, five daughters and two sons—Mrs. L. Demelma, Boston; Mrs. Nathan Meyer, Philadelphia; Mrs. Waxelbaum, Macon; also two daughters in California. His sons are Charles Weill, Philadelphia, and Will Weill, San Francisco. When Jefferson Davis, president of the southern confederacy, was fleeing from arrest by the federal authorities at Richmond at the close of the civil war, he was entertained in the home of Major Weill in Charlotte. This is an incident well established in North Carolina history.

BALL PIERCED PORTER'S HEART

Conductor Kills Negro Accidentally in Row on Train.

Greensboro, N. C., July 30.—(Special.)—Conductor Tuck Hamner, of Alexandria, accidentally shot and killed his porter, Henry D. McClelland, of Danville, today at 11:30 o'clock at North Garden, Va.

Hamner was trying to shoot a man named Coles, who had been very abusive to him and who had struck him several times over the head and chest. As he drew his pistol Coles seized his arm and the weapon went off accidentally. The ball pierced McClelland's heart and caused death to result in ten minutes.

PREFERRED STOCK ASSESSED AT PAR

South Carolina Cotton Mill Men Protest.

ASK FOR THE SPINDLE BASIS

They Say This Is the Only Fair and Impartial Method—Entire Day Was Spent in Hearing the Protests of Manufacturers.

Columbia, S. C., July 30.—(Special.)—The state board of equalization met here yesterday and the matter of the assessment of cotton mill property was at once taken up. Nearly all of the cotton mills in the state were represented by their presidents or other officers. It was estimated that there were men present during session representing more than $40,000,000 of corporate capital.

At the recent meeting of the board the basis of valuation of cotton mill property was determined upon as follows:

"That preferred stock of cotton mills be valued at $100, and common stock at rate returned by mills."

Of course, the 75 per cent valuation on fair and impartial one.

All of the mill men vigorously protested against this basis of valuation, holding that the spindle basis is the only fair and impartial one.

The entire day was spent in hearing protests from mill officials as to individual assessments made for each mill without respect to the basis of valuation.

At 6:30 o'clock the board took a recess until tomorrow morning.

YOUNG WHITE MAN ASSAILANT

Dumb and Idiotic Girl of 12 Is the Victim.

Columbia, S. C., July 30.—(Special.)—Last Saturday Etta Bratcher, 12 years old, dumb and idiotic, was sitting with her 9-year-old sister by the roadside near their home, 12 miles from Anderson, when John Shaw, a big fellow 20 years of age, assaulted her.

The girl's father applied for a warrant, but for some reason the magistrate did not issue it at the time. Today the magistrate went to Anderson and got a lawyer to draw the warrant. Then the story of the assault became public. All the parties are white.

Shaw has left the neighborhood, driving a black horse.

BIG PEACH CROP AT CALHOUN.

Two Cars a Day Are Being Shipped from Orchards.

Calhoun, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The peach season is now on in earnest. Two car loads a day are leaving Calhoun. They are the famous Elbertas. Each day during the coming week shipments will be greatly increased. The fruit is of the finest quality and size and is in great demand. Good rains through the peach belt have added much to the development of the fruit, and for the next two weeks several cars a day will leave Calhoun for the markets. Harbin and Hillhouse are the leading peach men of this county and their big orchards are veritable bee hives of industry—picking, packing and shipping.

The cantaloupe business has proved to be a total failure so far as the financial end is concerned. Express shipments have failed, in many instances, to pay charges and several cars shipped east and west have netted nothing comparatively. As it stands now, thousands of cantaloupes are in the fields or being fed to hogs. None are being gathered, as no cars are being shipped and the express company will not have the cantaloupes unless the express charges are paid in advance.

Will Not Sanction Application of Counsel for New Trial at Norfolk—He Shot Himself at Time of Killing—Very Strange Case.

Norfolk, Va., July 30.—(Special.)—Convicted by a jury in the Norfolk county court of murdering his wife, William Treadwell will not sanction the application of his counsel for a new trial. He declares that he purchased the pistol with which he killed his wife with the intention of killing himself as well and that the law would as well take his life. He therefore desires that no new trial be requested, and that sentence upon him be executed as soon as possible.

The man appears to have no desire to live whatever. The case is one of the strangest ever tried in a Virginia court. It is a fact that after shooting his wife the man turned the pistol upon himself and was weeks recovering from the wounds.

AN ERRANT WIFE ARRESTED.

Charlotte, N. C., July 30.—(Special.)—Acting upon a 'phone message from Salisbury, the police here arrested at the Southern passenger depot a young white woman with a baby in her arms. The woman gave her name as Mrs. Will Corriher and declared that she had been forced to leave home on account of the cruel treatment of her husband.

It now develops that the woman deserted her husband for one Sid Elliott and the two have been living together at Rock Hill as man and wife. An officer from Salisbury came here and took charge of the woman, returning with her to Salisbury.

Banquets and all convivial gatherings are made glad when Cook's Imperial Extra Dry Champagne is used.

NEW CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.

Millard F. Jordan Announces as Independent in Carroll.

Carrollton, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Millard F. Jordan, postmaster at Roopville, in the southern part of this county, has issued an announcement as an independent candidate for sheriff, to oppose James G. Tanner, nominee in the county primary.

Mr. Jordan has been indorsed by the populists of the county and two deputies, Tom S. Lumsden, of Mount Zion, in the western part of this county, and Pete Wester, of Temple, in the northern part of the county, have been nominated as deputies.

The republicans in the county will likely indorse this ticket and altogether it is believed by many that the team thus made up will be formidable in this county at this time. The remainder of the ticket nominated in the county primary are counted somewhat safe. One of the candidates for representative, Dr. G. W. Burnett, named by the populist mass meeting, has declined to accept the nomination.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR ATHENS.

Movement Started by Educators at State Normal.

Athens, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—A number of educators in this city connected with the State Normal school and the University of Georgia have under consideration a plan for holding a big summer school for teachers in Athens next summer. A number of chautauqua features will be added.

This movement is brought about by so many Georgia teachers leaving the state each year to attend summer schools, and as Athens furnishes peculiar advantages in this line, it is thought that the plan will succeed.

The gentlemen interested in this movement will take active steps to make it a success.

GREAT EDUCATIONAL RALLY.

One To Be Held at Mountain Springs, August 9.

Barnesville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Professor R. D. Adams, county school commissioner of Pike, has arranged for an important educational rally at Pine Mountain Springs on August 9. Hon. M. L. Brittain, of Fulton county, and President G. F. Oliphant, of Gordon institute, will make addresses, and there will also be speeches and recitations by pupils from the various schools of the county.

It will doubtless be an enjoyable and a profitable occasion.

WILL PLACE FULL TICKET IN FIELD

Mecklenburg County Republicans Will Contest for Offices.

CHAIRMAN MULLEN RESIGNS

Eight Members Added to Executive Committee—Avon and Gastonia Cotton Mills Case—Booker Washington to Lecture.

Charlotte, N. C., July 30.—(Special.)—At the meeting of the republican executive committee of Mecklenburg county here this morning Postmaster Jonas W. Mullen tendered his resignation as chairman. The resignation was promptly accepted and George B. Hiss was elected to fill the vacancy. The committee decided to place a full ticket in the field for county officers and also decided to add eight more members to the committee. The men selected were E. A. Smith, J. P. Wilson, A. H. Washburn, A. T. Houston, Edmund McDonald, W. W. Smith, G. W. Jordan and W. D. Cowles, all prominent cotton mill men.

Cotton Mills Case.

Papers in the case of the Avon and Gastonia Cotton Mills versus the W. L. Wells Company, of Vicksburg, Miss., were transmitted to the circuit court of appeals at Richmond for a hearing. At the recent sitting of the federal court here a verdict for $70,000 was rendered for the Wells company and the defendants took an appeal to the circuit court.

Booker Washington to Lecture.

The big colored camp meeting, which is held here every summer at Latta park, will be graced this year by the presence of Booker T. Washington, the Tuskegee educator. He is scheduled to deliver a series of lectures. In addition, Bishop Watters, one of the best known divines of the race, will preach and both colored and white persons are looking forward to the meeting with great interest. The meeting will open August 17.

NEWS OF INTEREST IN NORTH CAROLINA

Raleigh, N. C., July 30.—(Special.)—A charter was granted by the state today for a hotel at Beaufort to be built by the Oceanic Hotel Company, capital $50,000. In 1897 the old Atlantic hotel, which was built on wooden piles, which were nearly all decayed, collapsed in a great storm, accompanied by the highest tide ever known there. One of the guests, a young man named Hughes, of Newberne, was drowned, but this was because in sheer bravado he swam back into another building which collapsed as he entered it. Governor Jarvis was in the Atlantic hotel at the time, and though he has good use of only one arm, aided in managing the life lines and saving other guests. Part of the quaint old town was wrecked by the storm. It is one of the most picturesque places along the North Carolina coast.

The state superintendent of public instruction has received the annual report on the public schools of Robeson county. This is the county in which the Croatan Indians live—those strange people who are the descendants of the English left on Roanoke island in 1584 and the Indians of the mainland near by. The Indians took their name from Croatan, a place in Tyrrell county, perhaps 25 miles from the island. The report says there are in Robeson 1,764 Croatans between the school ages of 6 and 21 years. Of these 771 are in the public schools. It is explained by a resident of that county that these Indians marry at a very early age. Many of the girls marry at 15. Dozens of good old English names are found among these Indians, the names of Gilbert White's colonists sent over to Roanoke under the auspices of Sir Walter Raleigh.

It is decided by the committee which has in charge the celebration at Roanoke island that it shall be held in the summer of 1905 and that the legislature shall be asked to give $25,000 and congress $250,000 to fittingly observe the anniversary of the first English landing and settlement in the territory of what is now the United States.

President Winston, of the Agricultural and Mechanical college here, says that it cannot receive any students from any other states. There are many applications. Most of these are from Virginia and South Carolina, but there are some from Maryland, Georgia and Tennessee. North Carolinians will fill the college to the limit, and even more.

Tobacco of the new crop is selling here as high as $17 per 100 pounds.

Secretary Thomas K. Bruner, of the state board of agriculture, who had charge of its superb exhibit at Charleston, and was also a prominent judge of awards, is notified by the president of the exposition that for his distinguished services he is awarded a gold medal and diploma.

Reward for Incendiary.

Barnesville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—R. F. Matthews has offered a reward of $50 for an incendiary and hog thief. A few nights since one of his barns containing about 300 bushels of corn, was burned and he has reason for believing that the fire was of incendiary origin. He thinks the incendiary may have some connection with the loss of twenty-five fine hogs within the past few months and hence he offers the reward for the proper party with proof to convict.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT AT CASTILIAN, MISS.

Remains Taken to Waco, Home of Hoffmans, for Burial—Mississippi Congressmen to Speak in the North—Other News Notes.

Jackson, Miss., July 30.—(Special.)—Louis Hoffman, a 10-months-old child from Waco, Tex., met with a peculiar death at Castilian Springs, a summer resort near Durant, last night. The child was asleep in bed, and, while probably stirring restlessly about, tumbled to the floor. The neck was instantly broken by the fall, and it was some time afterwards before the accident was discovered by the horrified parents. The Hoffman family is prominent in Waco, and the remains were conveyed there for interment.

Will Speak in North.

The members of the Mississippi delegation in congress have been invited by the democratic campaign committee to make a series of addresses in the northern states during the fall congressional campaign, and as all of them will have their political troubles at home settled within the next thirty days, it is probable that several of them will accept. Senator McLaurin and Congressman McLain have already given notice of acceptance and have been assigned to their respective itineraries. Senator McLaurin will make a stumping tour of the districts in Tennessee where the republican party has manifested the greatest strength. The Mississippi delegation contains several very able orators, among the number being Hon. Patrick Henry, Hon. John Sharpe Williams, Hon. Charles E. Hooker and Hon. G. E. Chandler, Jr., all of whom are exponents of the old school of southern oratory.

Escaping Convict Shot.

George Reynolds, a safe blower sent to the penitentiary from Claiborne county to serve a ten-year sentence, was seriously wounded while trying to escape from one of the trusty guards on the farm. Reynolds was fleeing from his pursuers when the trusty commanded him to halt. Reynolds did not obey and the trusty fired, the charge from the shotgun taking effect in his legs and back. Another convict named Godfrey who was trying to escape at the same time was fired upon by Sergeant Puckett, but was not hit and afterwards surrendered.

Old Ladies' Home.

Much interest is being manifested in the meeting of the women of Mississippi to be held in the senate chamber on the 14th of August for the purpose of arranging the preliminary plan for the erection of an old ladies' home in Mississippi. The meeting will elect officers, arrange the plan of work, appoint canvassers, and open a subscription list for the fund, a number of good-sized donations for which have already been promised.

Other News Notes.

Warden Parchman, of the penitentiary, is now engaged in removing 100 prisoners from the convict farms in the delta to the new Sunflower farm, where they will be employed for the next six months clearing the wild land on the big tract purchased two years ago at a cost of $80,000. The season's crop has been laid by, and it is expected that the convicts will clear at least 1,000 acres before the cotton picking season opens.

Official denial is made that the Gulf and Ship Island road has purchased the Gulf and Chicago road, a 6-mile line running from Pontotoc, Miss., to Middleton, Tenn., and that it is the intention to build its line through from Jackson to Pontotoc and thence to Memphis. The Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City road however, has virtually secured control of the Gulf and Chicago, and, while operations are progressing rather slowly, it is the ultimate purpose to build on through from Hattiesburg to Memphis.

How History is Made.

Vassili Verestchagin, the Russian artist who has insisted in making the Rough Riders the whole thing at San Juan hill and in putting their lieutenant colonel in command of regulars as well as volunteers, is being rather severely criticised by some sticklers for what they call his perversion of history.

The Russian need not worry, however, for he is sure to have the indorsement of the eminent statesman and historian who, as the dearest friend of the administration, can be selected as high authority.

In the committee room of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the place of honor is given to a large, life-like picture representing the passage by the senate of the fifty-million-dollar bill appropriating the money with which to inaugurate the war with Spain. In this picture the senate chamber is faithfully portrayed and the likenesses of members of the senate are unmistakable. The members of that august body are shown turned in their seats and listening with wrapt attention to an eloquent speech, evidently in advocacy of the bill, being delivered by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts. The junior senator stands in the center aisle, his arms raised in emphatic gesture as he tells of the necessity of the prompt passage of the bill. It is a beautiful picture, a thrilling contribution to the history of the Spanish-American war. Hundreds of New England visitors have been carried to that committee room to gaze upon the inspiring representation of the prominence and power of the Massachusetts senator.

What difference does it make that when this bill came before the senate it was passed unanimously without Senator Lodge or any other member of the body rising from his seat, and without one word being said in its behalf.

Rural Delivery Discussion.

An interesting contribution to the discussion over the inception of the rural free delivery system is furnished by Mr. A. W. Machen, head of this division of the postoffice department. In this Mr. Machen shows the prominence taken by several Georgians in the early advocacy of what has become one of the most important, as it is one of the most widely beneficial, departments of the postal service.

This controversy seems to have been started by the claims of several South Carolina members of congress, each of whom has desired to take to himself the principal credit for the rural free delivery system. Similar claims have been made in favor of former Postmaster General Wanamaker. These attracted the attention of Hon. Thomas E. Watson, former representative from the tenth district, who referred to the fact that the first appropriation which congress passed for this service was introduced and advocated by himself.

Mr. Machen had published in Success a story of the growth of the free delivery, in which no mention was made of the Watson amendment, or at least no mention of Mr. Watson in connection therewith. The Georgian called Mr. Machen's attention to the matter, and the result is a reply, the salient features of which are reproduced in The Constitution. This sustains Mr. Watson's claim that the first practical step taken by congress was when it adopted his amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill setting aside a specific sum for rural delivery experiments.

Mr. Livingston had offered a similar amendment at the previous session of congress, at which the debate first assumed shape, and Mr. Watson had put the same thing in different shape, but both of these amendments were ruled out of the appropriation bill and the ruling of the chair had been sustained. At the next session Mr. Watson was first to submit the amendment and after a hard fight, in which most of the southern members advocated its passage, it was voted into the bill.

In adopting Mr. Watson's amendment congress took the first practical step toward the rual delivery experiments. The system has long since passed the experimental stage. Hundreds of thousands of people are now enjoying the benefits of daily delivery of mails at their homes in the country. Many members of congress have contributed toward the promotion of the system by their votes and it is gratifying to know that in promoting the subsequent growth, as well as in the inception of the great work, Georgians have been prominent.

Social Chivalry in Atlanta.

The New York Sun prints a clever review notice of Mr. Will N. Harben's latest novel of Georgia life, under the title of "Abner Daniel." One of the chapters deals with episodic social life in Atlanta and The Sun sees in a reported conversation between the heroine and other characters, occurring at a ball in this city, symptoms of a notable decline in the spirit of southern chivalry.

It is rather unexpected that the usually clear-eyed critics of The Sun should fall into the error of prejudging an entire social system by the single instance of one cad's selfishness. "Mr. Tedcastle," who betrayed the boorish disinclination to allow "Miss Adele Bishop" the feminine right to be excused from doing the grand promenade on his left duke, we are glad, to be sure, is not a fair specimen of the Atlanta society man.

While we are not blind to the fact that our social system has lost something of its original spirit of noblesse oblige by reason of an over-rapid adulteration with the nouveaux riches and the prognathous enterprisers who exploit the precedence of boodle over brains, yet these are the agents of mere incidents. They neither make nor amend our social laws and therefore their "bad breaks" in elegant etiquette are the more noticeable. It was for this cause, doubtless, that the novelist seized upon the Tedcastle case to give the strong note of discord that was necessary to the working out of his character plot.

Atlanta is a growing and more than usually cosmopolitan southern city. Many elements from many regions have entered into the mosaic of our communal life. But the dominant spirit of our domestic and social system is of the old southern chivalric type. We have with us yet the men and women leaders who were trained in the old school of pure thinking, clean speaking and courtly conduct. We have yet homes in which the arts of social culture as chaste and noble as any the world over are still the custom of the clan. We have a public social sentiment that still rebukes imprudence of speech and inelegance of conduct in public as well as in private. Our sense of chivalry is not dulled as yet by commercialism and the license that a Parisian or a New York "Four Hundreder" would flippantly call "social liberty."

Mr. Harben did not mean to represent a common degeneracy of social chivalry in Atlanta. His heroine, herself a stranger in our circles, might be excused for generalizing Tedcastle into a class, but Tedcastle was only an interloper and a misfit. Our marvel is that the astute litterateurs of The Sun did not recognize him as such and so treat him.

Republican "Harmony."

Indications of trouble inside the republican party continue to accumulate. President Roosevelt has announced his determination to advocate his Cuban relief policy in every speech he makes this summer and autumn, but the strong elements in the party which are opposed to any reduction of the tariff show no purpose to discontinue their opposition or to cease in their criticisms of the policy which the president seeks to make his own.

The president is apparently just as confident that "justice will be done Cuba" at the next session of congress as he was that the senate would pass the bill he had drafted for the protection of the sugar trust. He has said such a bill must pass—MUST pass—and his friends assert he will carry the fight forward, even should it endanger his nomination.

On the other hand, the republican opponents of the bill, inside the senate and out of it, are just as strongly against it as they have ever been, and there is no lack of indications that they are getting recruits. They are basing their opposition on the plea that there must be no tampering with the tariff, a cry that is most potent with republicans. Prominent on this side is the American Protective Tariff League, an organization with a very large membership of prominent manufacturers, which has been a great power in republican politics, representing as it does the element which has been the biggest factor in republican success in the past.

This tariff league is openly against reciprocity. It recently passed resolutions condemning the reciprocity-for-Cuba proposition on the ground that it involved a blow at the policy of protection. "As the recognized representatives of that principle and policy, we protest against the covert assaults upon protection that are being made in the name of tariff revision and reciprocity," said this resolution.

The organ of the league, The American Economist, leaves nothing to be guessed concerning its position. Among its comments upon the failure of the senate to pass the Cuban bill have been these:

The frantic efforts which have been put forth by the friends of reciprocity only show to what extent men will go in a desperate cause.

The republicans who have defeated the reciprocity scheme have done well.

The American people have done enough for Cuba.

The Cuban reciprocity bill, stripped of its disguise, was a measure in direct conflict with the principle which forms the corner stone of the republican party.

The Economist charges that the president's message "was undoubtedly precipitated by the scandalous disclosures concerning General Wood's appropriation of Cuban funds in support of the sugar trust's scheme to secure a reduction of the tariff on Cuban sugar," and adds that the president "decided to stand by his protege, sugar trust community of interest and all." The president is criticised for failure to manifest the wisdom to avoid a course "whose effect is to advertise, emphasize and confirm a state of dissension inside the ranks of his own party."

All of this, it must be remembered, comes from the organ of the ultra-protectionist element in the republican party. With the president declaring his party MUST pass a bill reducing the tariff rates on the products of Cuba and the protectionists saying nothing of the sort can be permitted, the prospects of republican harmony cannot be said to be bright.

The Cry of a Watchman.

The Hartford Courant is one of the oldest and staunchest of the republican newspapers of the east. It is, perhaps, the best exponent of Connecticut sentiment of the republican order. When it speaks it does so only after mature deliberation and with a surety that it voices the most wholesome section of party opinion in the state.

In a recent editorial The Courant severely arraigns what it is bold enough to call "the hog element" in the party. By that epithet it characterizes those republicans who are so wedded to the doctrine of protection and so greedy for all the advantages it confers as to refuse any concessions to the just demands of the people. The Courant has convinced itself that the tariff is being used to create and foster trusts and that tremendous profits are being taken from the people by reason of the premium given by the tariff to industries that no longer need protection.

Because it fears that the people will come to understand the case and will rebel against these unfair and spoliating effects of the tariff, The Courant believes the party ought to pronounce for a revision of the tariff schedules—giving protection adequately where protection is needed to maintain an American industry and taking away all unnecessary tariff rates from those industries that use them only for the greater plunder of the people.

The Courant realizes that in the last session of congress "the hog element" had the whip-hand in legislation and refused to consider any measure for the relief of the people from the unjust burdens of trust monopolies and extortionate prices. It also realizes that all the people of America will not submit to be robbed by the hog element, but will defend themselves by a revolt that will rob it of its legislative power.

In other words, The Courant, with many other sane republican authorities, is convinced that unless the republican party downs its own hog element the people will down the whole republican outfit. As a faithful watchman it sounds a timely alarm. But it is too late. The opportunity was in the last congress. The issue is now up to the people and unless all signs fail there will be no hog element in the next congress, for there will be no republican majority there.

Hon. Julius Caesar Burrows has suddenly found it necessary to get busy with his political fences in Michigan. It is hard for him to realize that worse things could happen to the country than his retirement from the senate.

Reports are to the effect that Hon. Pete Hepburn is letting out all his links in the endeavor to hold his seat in the next congress. As long as Iowa is solidly republican it would be a calamity to sidetrack genial Pete.

The Illinois democrats are getting together with the determination to figure as a doubtful state with claims to a nomination in the next national democratic convention. More power to their arms!

The soft shell crabs in the navy department are greatly incensed because they are to be sent to sea. And yet there is scarcely anything so cheap in the drug stores as antidotes for sea sickness.

President Roosevelt is to be godfather to Henry Cabot Lodge's grandson. We sincerely hope the young gent will survive the honor and grow up to be a better democrat than either of them!

Colonel Groesbeck praises the water cure as a happy and humane device. Still the president does not seem in a hurry to avail himself of Colonel Groesbeck's opinion as a campaign document.

Congressman Bartholdt is the latest to see things that are too funny to photograph. One of them is Missouri electing a republican to succeed Senator Vest. Whoa, January!

Hon. Dan Campau is again all on deck in the Michigan democratic campaign and that is a guarantee that the republicans must win anything they get under whip and spur.

A republican nominee for congress in Pennsylvania has been arrested for theft. That fixes him as a member of the winning class in his party in that state anyhow.

The administration might just as well use some of its vacation leisure in arranging a soft place for Senator Spooner to land in after the Wisconsin explosion.

Burglars in New York who keep up with the social scandal dope sheet can almost surely escape when they have to make a killing in pulling off their job.

Appreciation of Literature.

The best efforts of southern authors frequently pass unnoticed by southern newspapers. Thus it is while all the northern newspapers have brilliant reviews of Will N. Harben's latest novel, "Abner Daniel," very few leading journals of the south have noticed it at all—notwithstanding it is rated among the "best-selling" books of the day. The late Gordon Coogler was not far off the track when he penned his famous couplet:—

"Alas! for the south—
Her books have grown fewer:—
She never was much given
To Literature!"

A Brother at Sea.

The rhyming brother of The Edon Banner seems to be at sea, and all on account of his having attended campmeeting recently. He speaks for himself in the following stanzas:

"Campmeeting great I did attend,
But all at sea am I
On account of the creation
In the days that have gone by.

"They told us of the serpent
That tempted Mother Eve.
('Twas at the world's creation,
'Fore Moses—I believe.)

"Do serpents deal in apples,
Is just what bothers me;
And answer now this question:
Do serpents climb a tree?

"Oh, give me now some answer,
While here I am a-waitin',
And let us fight the fight with Paul
And shun the road to Satan!"

Two Views of It.

The poet of The Blue Ridge Post voices this sentiment in a recent issue of that paper:

"Wish de blessed raindrops
Mos' ev'ry day would flow,
An' rain nice sweetened water
To make de melons grow."

The Sweet Singer of Whitsett, however, takes another view of it:

"This life—it is a good one,
An' always would be prime
If melons grew in winter,
An' possums didn't climb."

A Song of the Dog-Days.

Monroe G. Carleton has this Dog-day poem in The Criterion:

The dog-star reigns! No wandering cloud
Festoons the clear unpillared sky;
Gold-bosomed fields, hills grassy-browed,
The lazy river, stream-beds dry,
Are flushed with Sol's fierce effluent tide,
Poured from his flood-gates far and wide."

That's pretty fair magazine verse; but Mr. Edwin Markham has a copyright on "pillared" and "unpillared" skies, and no man shall encroach on his preserves, unchallenged.

Still Providence is doin' fer us all its level best:—
We all keep cool in Georgia while they're meltin' in the west!
The bells to rest are ringin'—
The honeysuckles swingin',
An' jest a million mockin'birds in reddest blooms are singin'!

We're livin' in God's country: Though still the hot sun shines,
It's brightest beams are tangled in the mornin'glory vines;
Green pathways lead to pleasure;—
Love brings us gifts to treasure,
An' heaven an' earth, with all their joys, are ours in richest measure!

The August Criterion is notable for its article on "Recollections of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow." In that article Longfellow is quoted as saying that Bryant sold poems for two dollars a piece and thought that he was well-paid at that time. The poets of the present day do not write nearly so well, but not one of them would accept so humble an honorarium for their productions.

"Mighty Well."

When the old world asks you
What's the news to tell,—
Don't care how you're feelin',—
Answer: "Mighty well!"

Craps may go to ruin—
Dry, or rainy spell;
Allus answer lively,—
"Doin' mighty well!"

Sorrow wins no friendship:
Don't care where you dwell—
Hilltops, or the valleys,—
"Doin' mighty well!"

The weather, down in Georgia, has been almost too cool for the mockingbirds to sing; even the fall-time fiddlers have mistaken the season, and are tuning up for an old-fashioned quadrille.

GAVE HIS LIFE TO SAVE HIS DOG

Henry Poland, of Savannah, Struck by Engine at Fleming.

Waycross, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Henry Poland, of Savannah, gave his life to save his dog near Fleming this morning. To prevent the dog from being run over, Poland sprang in front of a rapidly approaching train and was struck by the engine and thrown in a ditch by the roadside.

Poland was unconscious when taken up, foot crushed nearly off and injured internally. The engineer of the train, seeing that he had struck the man, brought the engine to a standstill as quickly as possible. The injured man was placed on board to be brought to the hospital at Waycross. A surgeon was summoned at Jesup, but was powerless in his efforts to save the badly injured man. Poland died just as the train stopped at Patterson.

Poland had been a resident of Savannah for five years. Accompanied by a friend, H. M. Dahl, who resides on Waldburg street in Savannah, Poland left for Jacksonville yesterday. The two men intended to walk the distance on the railroad tracks. Poland's dog accompanied him, and his presence caused the accident this morning. The dog was not injured by the train, and he was left by the roadside howling piteously. Poland was 43 years old.

WORK OF GEORGIANS FOR RURAL DELIVERY

Hon. A. W. Machen, the head of the free delivery division of the postoffice department, has furnished an interesting resume of the early contests for the establishment of rural free delivery in a letter he has written to Hon. Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia. In this Mr. Machen states that the first appropriation for free rural delivery appeared in the postoffice appropriation bill for the year which ended June 30, 1894, and that it was put there on Mr. Watson's motion. Mr. Machen tells the story of the earlier efforts in this way:

"May 27, 1892, the postoffice appropriation bill for the succeeding fiscal year was taken up in the committee of the whole house, Mr. Henderson, of North Carolina, as chairman of the committee on the postoffice and post roads, in charge of the bill. Judging from the general debate, there appears to have been considerable confusion in the minds of the members as to the meaning of the words 'rural free delivery,' many contending that the experimental free delivery service in villages, established during Postmaster General Wanamaker's administration, was the real article. During the discussion Mr. Blount, of Georgia, seemed to have the most to say upon the general subject of free delivery. He was thoroughly opposed to a strictly rural free delivery, which he characterized as 'simply humbuggery.'

"Mr. Ray, of New York, appears to have been the first to take issue with Mr. Blount by referring to the great demand for the service from the farmers in his district. Mr. Houk, of Ohio, was then drawn into the discussion. He, too, dwelt upon the fact that in his district there was a general demand for 'rural delivery or free delivery in the country.' At this point Mr. Blount yielded the floor to you. This appears to be the first time that you took part in the debate on the question of rural free delivery. I quote your words:

"'Mr. Watson—As the gentleman on the floor comes from the same state as myself, I desire to supplement what has been said by these gentlemen on the right (Mr. Houk, of Ohio, and Mr. Ray) by stating that in my district there is a strong demand for free delivery; and I wish to ask the gentleman from Georgia whether the delivery of mail matter free to people who live near the postoffices, while those who live farther away are obliged to go for their mail, is not a false system?'

"No conclusion was reached on May 27, 1892, and the debate ran through the following day. It is found that on May 28 Mr. O'Donnell, of Michigan, made the first exhaustive argument on the subject of a strictly rural free delivery service. You made extensive remarks on the same day. No conclusion was reached on May 28. The bill was again taken up in the committee of the whole on May 31 without conclusion and on June 1 (page 4922) I find the first amendment offered to the appropriation bill bearing upon the subject of rural free delivery, which reads as follows:

"'Amend. . . Provided that $100,000 shall be used for experimental rural free delivery outside of towns and villages.'

"This amendment was introduced by Mr. Livingston, of Georgia. A protracted discussion followed, during which you made two or three attempts to offer an amendment which you finally succeeded in doing, as follows (page 4927):

"'For free delivery service, $10,445,000, of which $100,000 shall be used in experimental free delivery in the country as distinct from the cities and towns.'

"On this amendment Chairman Henderson raised the point of order which was sustained by the chair. You appealed from the chair's decision and after a division raised the point of no quorum. As it appeared to you that there was nearly a quorum present, you withdrew your point of order and the decision of the chair was sustained. The amendment, therefore, was not inserted in the appropriation for the year ended June 30, 1893.

"In The Congressional Record, fifty-second congress, second session, on page 1759, I find on February 17, 1893, you offered the following amendment to the item providing for the free delivery service:

"'Amend paragraph so as to read as follows: For free delivery service, including existing experimental free delivery offices, $11,254,900, of which the sum of $10,000 shall be applied under the direction of the postmaster general to experimental free delivery in rural communities other than towns and villages.'

"After some discussion the amendment was agreed to by a vote of 79 ayes to 41 noes. That amendment carried into the appropriation bill for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1894, the first appropriation for rural free delivery as we now understand it. After carefully examining The Record from which I have taken the foregoing data, I think you will agree with me that the following statement is about correct:

"1. That the honor of having first entered debate in favor and defense of rural free delivery may be fairly shared by Mr. Ray, of New York; Mr. Houk, of Ohio, and yourself.

"2. That the first exhaustive argument upon the subject may be credited to Mr. O'Donnell, of Michigan.

"3. That Mr. Livingston, of Georgia, should be given credit for having offered the first amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1893, for a specific sum to be expended for 'rural free delivery outside of towns and villages.'

"4. That the first appropriation providing for an experiment of rural free delivery was inserted in the postoffice appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1894, as an amendment offered and strongly advocated by you and passed in the committee of the whole on February 17, 1893."

HON. WM. A BROUGHTON CALLED BY GRIM REAPER

HON. WILLIAM A. BROUGHTON.

After Short Illness He Passed Away at Madison Yesterday Morning--Prominent Financier and Statesman.

Madison, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Hon. William A. Broughton died at his home here this morning at 4 o'clock from acute gastritis. The news of his death created quite a shock, as only a very few knew of the serious nature of his illness.

Mrs. Broughton and daughter left about ten days ago to spend the summer at White Sulphur Springs, Va., and knew nothing of Colonel Broughton's illness until it assumed a serious shape yesterday evening, when they were immediately telegraphed for. They will arrive in Madison tonight.

No definite arrangements will be made for the funeral until Mrs. Broughton arrives, but it will probably occur some time tomorrow, from the Methodist church here.

Colonel William A. Broughton was one of Georgia's most prominent and wealthiest citizens. He was a large land owner, having several valuable plantations in different states, besides owning several thousand acres of land in this and Jasper counties. The little town of Broughton, on the Central railroad, between Covington and Machen, was named for him, and he virtually owns the entire village.

Insurance policies on his life, taken out in several life insurance companies, amount up to nearly $35,000.

Colonel Broughton was well known throughout Georgia, having held several responsible positions in the state. In 1894 he represented this district, the twenty-eighth, in the state senate, and made a brilliant record. He was also treasurer of the Farmers' Alliance, and when that organization failed, he was appointed to straighten out the financial condition of the alliance, which had become very much tangled and confused. His splendid and successful work in this line placed him among the best financiers of the state, and his name was often mentioned as the available man for state treasurer.

Colonel Broughton, at the time of his death was 51 years of age, and leaves a widow, a daughter, Miss Annette, and a young son, Rollin, to mourn his death. He also had an only sister, Mrs. C. B. Speer, of this city, wife of the late Judge A. M. Speer. Mrs. W. A. Hemphill, another sister, died in Atlanta a few years ago.

To his friends, and they were many, he was staunch and true, and he always nobly responded to their needs when called upon. His duty to his family and his home was his paramount ambition, and this, in a measure, allayed the political aspirations he, at times, possessed.

His many friends throughout this section sincerely mourn his untimely death.

TO DEVELOP MINERAL LANDS IN TENNESSEE

Ironton, Ohio, July 30.—The Valley Iron Company, with a capital of $1,000,000, will be organized next month to develop mineral lands near Chattanooga, Tenn., by Ohio and Pennsylvania capitalists. A blast furnace of 200 tons capacity will be erected.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 30.—For a number of years James Bowron, Erskine Ramsey, Paschal Shook, G. B. McCormack, Colonel Baxter, of Nashville, and other prominent iron makers were officers in the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company. Under the reorganization of that company they resigned, and later organized the Valley Iron Company, with $1,000,000 capital, as stated. They secured the rights and titles to considerable mineral land between Chattanooga and Valley Head, Ala., on the Alabama Great Southern railroad, where they will locate their plants.

Associated with these people is George W. Nixon, of this city, who is now actively engaged in the work of mining ore in that vicinity. Extensive mines will be opened along the line of Lookout mountain. The same quality of ore is found in Sand mountain, and it is here that the first mines will be opened. It is understood that the organizers of the company intend to make it a complete plant of every description, and that gigantic steel mills will be erected, according to the plans of the promoters, each one being of a capacity of not less than 200 tons per day. Chattanooga will be headquarters of the company.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL WILL OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Athens, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The State Normal school will open next Monday morning. The first two weeks will be a special summer session and will be devoted to the teaching of methods. Then the regular session of the school will be taken up.

The model school opens at this institution Monday. It will be in charge of Misses Lucy Davis, Cora Clarke, Annie Linton and Emma Lelia Sims. Miss Davis will be the principal of this department.

The attendance upon the exercises of the Normal school this session will be at least 200 and the probability is that many more of the Georgia teachers will be present. The school has 200 scholarships which will give it that many teachers who will be here for the entire session. One hundred of these scholarships have been given by different people throughout the state. The other hundred were given by the general education board.

These scholarships will bring enough teachers to tax the dormitory capacity of the school and the need of more dormitory room is apparent. The erection of the Winnie Davis Memorial hall will in a measure relieve this need by furnishing accommodations for fifty or sixty girls. The Normal school authorities are satisfied that in some way provision will be made for those who seek admission.

An active effort will be made to secure from the next legislature a sufficient appropriation to add to the $10,000 given by George Foster Peabody, of New York, and thus give the school a large, modern school building, which is badly needed, as many large classes have to meet now in rooms that are utterly inadequate.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

From Captain W. A. Fuller.

Editor Constitution: I am delighted to learn that it is possible for the city of Atlanta to have the benefit of the wisdom, experience and honesty of Captain Evan P. Howell as her mayor for the next term. I know of no greater blessing that could come to Atlanta. His acknowledged political influence, his well known financial ability, his thorough knowledge of the affairs, the needs and the hopes and aspirations of our people make him by all means the man for the office of mayor. By this short note I do not mean by what I have said that other gentlemen who have been mentioned would not, or could not, fill the office of mayor acceptably, but simply to emphasize the fact that, in my judgment, Captain Howell is the man for the next term.

W. A. FULLER.

Major John C. Whitner.

Editor Constitution: The mention of Captain Howell for the position of mayor of Atlanta can have but one response from every man who knows him, and that is an unanimous indorsement of his nomination. He is a man of marked intellectual ability with a discernment concerning matters of public importance few possess, and a courage which knows how to accept rightful suggestions, as well as to enforce righteous duties for our city's honor and prosperity.

He has rendered Atlanta, as a matter of love and pride, much gratuitous service leading to her permanent prosperity. Let her now crown him with the mayoralty by unanimous support.

JOHN C. WHITNER.

ENGINEER D. J. KELLEY KILLED

Piece of Cylinder Head Crushed His Skull at Camden.

Columbia, S. C., July 30.—(Special.)—As the result of an accident at the DeKalb cotton mill, at Camden, today, D. J. Kelley, the engineer, was killed by a piece of cylinder head crushing his skull.

In consequence of this break-down of the machinery the mill will be closed for several weeks till the damage is repaired, or perhaps for several months, as it is alleged that a new engine will probably be installed in place of the one now in use.

Plotted to Rob.

Savannah, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—W. C. Groves, or "Chauncey" Groves, as he is known, was convicted in the superior court today of an attempt to commit robbery by force. Groves is a white man who came to Savannah from Macon. He was proprietor of the Planters' hotel in this city. He had been in jail recently, his bondsmen having withdrawn. J. F. Dister claimed that he had learned of a plot hatched by Groves, E. H. Mahley and Joe Waters, all white, to rob him late on a Saturday night, as he was on his way home. Groves has not been sentenced. Mahley and Waters, it is said, will plead guilty.

LARGE GIFT TO SCHOOLS FROM EMPTY STRONG BOX

Finance Committee Appropriates $8,000 from Source Unknown--Serious Condition Confronts tne City School System.

The finance committee of the general council has decided to make an additional appropriation of $8,000 to the public schools.

From what source the money is coming is not known, and the committee is frank to say that it is ignorant of the source.

It was decided yesterday to make the additional appropriation after L. Z. Rosser had addressed the committee and made a strong appeal for extra funds. Mr. Rosser went carefully over the entire situation and told of the condition of the schools. He explained the crowded condition of many of the buildings, and declared that children were being taught in rooms that physicians had considered unhealthy.

He pointed out the fact that there was already a deficiency of something like $3,000 in the teachers' salaries, which would have to be made up. All of these things he stated caused a deficiency of $8,000 at the present time, and that amount even would not allow them to provide for any new pupils.

As announced in yesterday's Constitution, the number of new pupils who will apply for entrance at the opening of the term will be between 1,500 and 2,000.

The finance committee, as a whole and as individuals, are heartily in sympathy with the schools, and everything possible will be done to have the city furnish the amount necessary to keep the schools up the highest standard.

Committee Understands Needs.

When Mr. Rosser concluded his remarks yesterday he was asked a number of questions by members of the committee, and he was at last assured that the committee would see that the schools were given the $8,000 asked for before the end of the year.

While the committee does not know where the money is to come from, the request of the school board is looked upon as urgent, and at the next meeting of council a resolution will be introduced for that body to vote on authorizing the board to go ahead and make the necessary expenditures. Then later on in the year the money will be provided.

Major W. F. Slaton, superintendent of schools, stated yesterday that as soon as he received official notice that the appropriation has been made he will begin the work of making the additions needed. The work will be first taken up at Fair street school.

The applications of children who wish to enter the schools continue to come in large numbers. Over 100 tickets were issued yesterday. Superintendent Slaton and Assistant Superintendent Landrum are kept busy issuing the tickets every day.

PERPETUAL MOTION FOUND BY RECORDER AND CAGED

"I HAVE struck perpetual motion at last," remarked Recorder Broyles, at yesterday afternoon's session of the police court.

The recorder's perpetual motion was in the shape of a gray-haired old man who was on trial for being an idler and loafer.

"Yes; I have found the long sought for motion for which the world has been sighing in vain for many centuries," the recorder continued. "Now go on and tell me again about how you have been kept moving."

The prisoner, John Rodgers, sighed heavily and replied:

"As I was saying, judge, I started out to get work when I was a young man and I hadn't been on the road very long before they called me a tramp. No sooner had I got the name than I was told to keep moving. How could a man get work who had to keep moving all the time? They say that a rolling stone gathers no moss and I surely had no chance to gather moss or anything else. At every town, city, hamlet or cross roads I struck I heard the mandate: 'Move on!' It was either keep moving on or work as a convict. I came from a noble family and I had enough pride left not to wish to become a convict and wear stripes. So I've kept moving and moving and moving until my hair has grown gray in the business and my old limbs rheumatic with age. Last night I reached Atlanta, the so-called metropolis of the south, and I said to myself surely now I can rest and get work. You see where I am, and I hear once more the mandate: 'Move on!'"

"No," the recorder informed him, "you will not be told to move on, not for a little while at least. We will let you rest in the stockade for a few days and then you can move. But while you are here I would like to have the world know that Atlanta found perpetual motion and caged it."

MANY ATLANTA BOYS WILL ENTER COLLEGE THIS FALL

FIFTY of more Atlanta boys will enter colleges this fall to take such courses and degrees and to acquire such educations as they or their parents think best adapted to a life work for them.

Atlanta sends her quota every year to the various colleges and universities throughout the country, but this year the indications are that the number will be larger than usual.

Following are the names of forty-eight young Atlantans who, it is said, will enter colleges and finishing schools this fall:

Howell E. Dodd, Herman Liddell, J. W. Plunkett, Peter Lynch, W. Fishback, J. J. Spalding, Alex W. Smith, E. P. King, Jr., Wesley Cansey, Robert Boston, Charles Padgett, Neal McGuire, Frank Adair, Walter Pope, Cohen J. Loeb, R. W. Hart, Marshall Lane, Jr., Clarence Boll, R. L. Parker, F. N. Burt, Lamar Hill, Charles P. Pratt, Harry Stovall, Winship Nunnally, Z. P. Dean, O. Kirley, G. Edward King, J. M. Henderson, J. T. Dargan, Jr., Paul Norcross, Melton Smith, Evan Howell, H. J. Landrum, Roy Abernathy, O. D. Carpenter, C. D. Cabaniss, Frank Tidwell, Charlie Rushton, George Muse, Jr., Holland Lowndes, Dozier Lowndes, W. Peters, Connelly Lowndes, Asa W. Candler, Percy A. Rich, I. H. Fleischman, S. J. Crowe and George P. Whitman.

It is believed that a large number of the foregoing will go to the state university at Athens. So great has been the improvement in that institution within the past few years that the advantage of securing an education at home and among one's home people is not the only one now to be considered, for it is unquestionably one of the finest colleges in the south.

Chancellor Hill keeps busy during the summer presenting the claims of the university to the boys and parents of the boys who expect to attend college in the fall, and he is now urging the alumni to take a hand in the work with him.

It is not known to just what schools all of those mentioned will go, but the majority of them will no doubt attend Georgia institutions. Fewer Georgia boys every year are seeking educations in foreign institutions, for they can now secure what they want at home.

OFFICER'S UMBRELLA SOLD; MISTAKE AT OLE HOSS SALE

"HOW much am I offered for this umbrella? How much? How much?" The chief of police was selling a second-hand umbrella at the "ole hoss" sale a few days ago. Few people wanted the sun shade, and it went for 20 cents.

Out in the audience was a city detective, and he watched the sale of the umbrella with a curious expression on his face. When the sale was over, he turned to a brother officer and said somewhat sadly:

"That was my umbrella the chief sold. I left it over there behind the table, and he must have picked it up by mistake."

"Why on earth didn't you tell him?" asked the other officer.

"Tell him," exclaimed Detective "Nig" Simpson, for it was he who had claimed the umbrella. "Why, if I had called out that that was my umbrella the whole crowd would have guyed me. No, sir, I would rather have had a dozen umbrellas than to have had a laugh put on me."

Somebody told the chief of police that he had sold Detective Simpson's umbrella, and he agreed to recall the sale, but the detective would not hear of it, and slipped away.

There was a peculiar history about the old umbrella that was accidentally sold at the "ole hoss" sale.

"I got that umbrella," stated the detective afterwards, "about six years ago from a most notorious criminal. You all remember John Baskin, alias Hook-nosed Hank? Well, he gave me that umbrella as a present when he left the city. I had him locked up on suspicion, but we could prove nothing on him. I accidentally met him at the depot when he was leaving, and he had me to walk to a store with him, where he bought the umbrella. I ought to state first, however, that the only thing I lacked to convict Baskin was a pearl handle knife with a woman's name engraved on it, for by that I could have had him identified. I thanked him for the umbrella and carried it home. A week later it rained and I opened my new umbrella and out dropped the pearl-handle knife."

INMAN SUMMER HOME SOLD.

It Is Reported That J. L. Bass, of Rome, Has Bought the Inman Home Near That City.

It was reported yesterday that J. L. Bass, of Rome, Ga., had purchased the Inman property, which is situated about a mile west of Rome.

Some years ago Hugh Inman, of Atlanta, bought the property formerly owned by the Selkirk estate and converted the place into a veritable palace of luxury and beauty. For several summers Mr. Inman and family have spent months at this place, and scores of friends were their guests from a distance. It is one of the handsomest places in that section of the state, and it is probable that several thousand dollars passed between the parties to the sale. It cannot be stated for a fact that the sale has been consummated, or what Mr. Bass' plans are relative to the property, or the consideration involved, on account of the absence of Mr. Bass.

ARRESTS, "NONE;" MAYOR WRATHY

City Executive Says He Is Disgusted With the Police.

Failure of Officers to Arrest Persons Guilty of Violating Ordinances of Sanitation Draws Pithy Statement from Mayor Mims.

Mayor Mims says he is disgusted with the police department, and declares that he cannot get it to enforce the laws in the city code relative to keeping the streets clean. The mayor declares that Atlanta has the best laws in the country in regard to sanitation, and that it would be the cleanest city in the United States if he could only get the police department to properly enforce them. The mayor has complained on this matter time and again, and he says that he is determined to have the police department do its duty if he has to send a special message to council and invoke the assistance of that body.

Two or three days ago the mayor sent a request to the recorder to give him the number of cases that had been made against people for littering up the streets and spitting on the sidewalks, and the reply he received was not very encouraging. Following is what the mayor received:

Hon. Livingston Mims, Mayor of Atlanta—Dear Major: I send you at your request all that I find on the recorder's docket in regard to cases made and entered on our books for trial relative to "throwing paper on streets, dropping dirt on streets from wagons and spitting on the sidewalks. Since May 1, 1902:

Spitting on streets cases made, none.
Throwing paper on streets, none.
Allowing dirt to fall on streets from wagons, cases made, two.

This up to July 25. Respectfully,
CLARENCE MOORE,
Clerk of Recorder's Court.

Mayor Mims Talks.

In speaking of the matter yesterday Mayor Mims said:

"There is nothing that adds more to the character of a city than clean streets and sidewalks, not only to the health and happiness of its citizens, but as an attraction and inducement to others to become citizens. It is true that a progressive city like Atlanta cannot keep all its streets in clean order, when the many improvements incident to its growth and prosperity are going on, as, for instance, the excavations for its great buildings, the tearing up of streets for electrical, gas, water and sewerage purposes; for these, too, indicate a progress that attracts favorable notice. At the same time, great care should be observed that the best condition of cleanliness be had where such improvement is going on, and, besides, it is a fact that the streets thus torn up are but few compared with the many that are not interfered with, and withal the law is rigid that they be kept free from trash or loose paper, the rinds and pealings of fruits, sweeping off streets and sidewalks and that spitting on the sidewalks be prohibited.

"To enforce the laws penalties of fines and imprisonment are prescribed against all violators. It is the duty of the sanitary inspectors—indeed, all officers of the city, and especially the police—to enforce these laws. Indeed, to the police especially the public has a right to look for the enforcement of these laws, and yet it is plain that the duty is neglected, as the conditions of the streets will plainly indicate."

The mayor then referred to the report from the recorder's court and stated that it was a shame the police did not attend to their duties. The matter has reached the point where the mayor declares something must be done and he says that if this police force cannot enforce the laws the city ought to get one that can.

IMPORTANT ORDERS ISSUED.

Adjutant General Robertson Publishes Scores of Shoot—Officers To Wear Insignia.

Adjutant General James W. Robertson yesterday issued two interesting orders pertaining to the state troops.

General orders No. 9 contains the team scores and the highest individual scores made in the recent state rifle practice and contest on the Macon range. It also gives the names of all the prize winners. The order states that prizes may be secured by addressing Colonel E. D. Huguenin, president Macon Military Rifle Association, except for medal offered by Colonel George T. Cann, which may be secured by application to him at Savannah.

The other order prescribes that all staff officers shall wear the lower angles of their insignia, or the devices of the respective staff departments to which their duties correspond. The order is as follows:

"State of Georgia, Adjutant General's Office, Atlanta, Ga., July 26, 1902.—General Orders No. 10: By direction of the governor, without any cost to the state, the following is published for the information and guidance of the Georgia state troops, and of the Georgia state troops, colored:

"Regimental, squadron and battalion adjutant, quartermasters and commissaries of cavalry, or infantry, will wear the lower angles of their insignia, the devices (of gold and gilt metal) of the respective staff departments to which their duties correspond.

"Officers of the artillery and of the naval battalion will wear similar devices in the lower angles of their insignia.

"By command of the governor.
"JAMES W. ROBERTSON,
"Adjutant General."

EXTENSION IS FAVORED

Special Council Committee Wants a Great Territory Taken In.

ANXIOUS FOR NORTH ATLANTA

Committee Expressed Itself as Especially Desirous of Making That Suburb Part of City.

The special committee of the city council, which has in charge the matter of revising the report of the charter commission, has declared in favor of extending the city limits. This was the first section of the charter to be taken up, and the first difference between the two bodies has occurred. A vote was taken at the meeting yesterday morning, and resulted in the committee deciding to declare in favor of extending the limits without stating where or in what manner they are to be extended.

The motion was carried with the exception of the vote of Alderman Woodward. He stated that he did not like to favor an extension until he learned how the city was going to take care of those sections to be taken in, and how it could provide schools for the new citizens and those already in the limits.

There was a full attendance at the meeting, and the committee favored taking in a considerable territory, and especially that known as North Atlanta. Some of the committeemen favored extension so strongly that they wanted to vote on the matter finally yesterday and vote North Atlanta in. It was decided, after some debate, however, to have another hearing this morning so that all who desired could be heard, and then the vote will probably occur.

There were only two citizens before the committee yesterday morning. Alex Smith was present, and the committee asked if he would like to be heard. He stated that he had not intended to make a speech, but that he did not object to giving the committee his views. He said that he thought it was bad policy to single out one section and take it in just because it happened to be more thickly settled than others. Mr. Smith stated that he personally did not object to being taken in the city if other sections were taken in, but he decidedly objected to being singled out.

Judge J. N. Langston spoke on the same line. He said that if the people of North Atlanta were incorporated they would certainly expect to get something in return for their taxes, and that the city would be expected to provide schools and fire protection, as was done in the other sections of the city.

The committee discussed the matter at length, but no final action was taken other than to indicate that it was in favor of extension. There will be another meeting this morning at 10 o'clock in the council chamber, when the question of extension will be again taken up, and all who care to be heard on it are invited to appear before the committee and give their views.

PLUMBERS DRAW UP ULTIMATUM

200 Union Workmen May Walk Out Tomorrow.

Plumbers Notify Employees That $3.50 Must Constitute a Day's Pay and That Half a Day's Pay Must Be Given for Any Work.

The union plumbers of Atlanta will strike tomorrow unless their demands for the nine hour day, a uniform wage of $3.50 and certain other specified regulations are granted by the employing plumbers of the city.

Several prominent master plumbers were seen by representatives of The Constitution yesterday, and as they were unanimous in declaring that they would not agree to the demands of the plumbers, it seems certain that the strike is to come.

In addition to the nine-hour day and $3.50 wages, the plumbers want eight hours made the working day for Saturday and also wish the employing plumbers to agree to pay for a half day's work where any work at all is done.

The demand was made on the employing plumbers in the following notice, which was received yesterday morning by each plumbing firm which employs union plumbers:

"Atlanta, Ga., July 28, 1902.—Dear Sirs: On and after August 1, 1902, all union plumbers in your employ shall receive $3.50 per day for nine hours work, and eight hours to constitute a full day's work on Saturday. No union plumber can receive less than one-half day's pay for any work done.

"We respectfully submit this to you for your consideration. Yours respectfully,
R. D. CALHOUN,
"Recording Secretary Local No. 72."

Large Number to Walk Out.

The plumbers state that between 150 and 200 skilled plumbers will walk out if the demands are not granted. They add that this number will include practically every high-class plumber in the city.

They give as their reason for the demand that a great deal of very high-class plumbing work has to be done in Atlanta now and that men capable of doing it are worth the wages demanded for the hours stipulated.

For the present the strike will not include the gas fitters, though it is possible that they may be drawn into the fight if it is a prolonged one.

The employing plumbers say that the plumbers really have nothing to strike for and that for this reason their demands will not be granted. They state that the nine-hour day is now generally in effect and that plumbers who are worth $3.50 per day are now receiving it.

The employing plumbers state that they will absolutely refuse to pay for a half day's work where a workman is employed for only an hour or so. They add that if this rule goes into effect the public will pay for it and not the employing plumbers.

A prominent employing plumber, in discussing the situation yesterday afternoon, said:

"I am paying $3.50 per day to some of my plumbers. Some men are worth less than this, and I shall refuse to pay any man more than his services are worth to me.

"I shall also refuse to pay a man for a half day's work when he works for only a few hours. If I did, I should have to charge my patrons accordingly, and this would manifestly be unfair to them."

So far the employing plumbers have reached no agreement as to what they will do in answer to the demands of the plumbers. Each man says that he will act for himself. If the employing plumbers hold to their intention to ignore the demands, the plumbers will in all probability walk out tomorrow morning.

WANT TO LIVE IN FULTON.

Citizens of Clayton County, It Is Said, Would Like To Be Annexed.

Citizens living below Hapeville, it is understood, are circulating petitions among the residents of that section of their county in the interest of a movement looking to the annexation by Fulton county of a strip of Clayton county, adjoining this county.

It is said that a number have already signed the petitions and that a strong effort will be made to bring the matter to the attention of the general assembly this fall. Those who are behind the movement, it seems, consider that, in having to attend court at Jonesboro, they are at a disadvantage.

Some are of the opinion that the county seat is too far away from them and that in the winter time, when roads are in bad condition, they are put to considerable inconvenience in having to ride all the way to Jonesboro from the northern part of the county.

AMOS BAKER FOR SEXTON.

He Announced Yesterday Morning That He Was a Candidate for the Position.

Captain Amos Baker is a candidate for the position of city sexton. He made the formal announcement of his candidacy yesterday morning and declared he would be in the race until the last ballot was counted. It is understood he will have plenty of opposition. There are usually a number of candidates for sexton's place.

For some time Captain Baker has been employed by the county as special investigator of tax returns. He has never held an elective office, although he has repeatedly occupied positions to which he was appointed either by the city or county governments. He has long been prominent in military circles.

An Open Question.

A BUSINESS man who claims he is in a position to know the truth takes issue with one of the statements made in the article, "Wanted, Shirt-Waist Makers," appearing in this department Sunday last.

He declares that Atlanta women—in fact, all southern women with whom he has had business experience—are not willing to pay the same prices when they patronize home industry as when in New York they purchase the same gown with no better work.

They are willing, he contends, to pay double the price in New York for the same material and fashion which they get here, and they lack confidence in what appears in home markets.

Several years ago in this department there were a series of interviews published on this same subject, Atlanta women of fashion declaring they were ready and willing to patronize home industry.

The merchants with but few exceptions had little to complain of, and several modistes, educated in their art, declared they had more work than they could do, and that the prices they asked were paid.

Women experts in plain sewing claimed their hands were full; that their prices were paid, but then, as now, there was the general cry for trained labor or labor susceptible to training.

"I have a roomful of work here," said a little woman questioned on the subject yesterday as she fitted a muslin gown with artistic accuracy, "but I can secure no one to assist me. One young woman after another comes, demands the wages paid for expert work and then proves herself inefficient and rather resents the effort made to teach her.

"I do not think Atlanta women are inappreciative of home industry," she continued. "They pay me what I ask for my work, but there are times that I hesitate asking what the work is really worth because I am compelled for want of help to delay their fittings and to disappoint them time and again as to finishing their gowns."

This little woman is cheerfully paid $6 and $8 for the most simple muslin gowns, and $10 and $12 for those more elaborately fashioned, for her fit is perfect, her work is dainty, and she is "up-to-date."

But the woman who does "slip-shod" work, makes uneven tucks, wastes lace and leaves finger marks on her materials need not expect that for her careless effort she will receive the pay coming to her sister—the trained worker.

I do not believe that the business man who claims that Atlanta women are unwilling to pay at home the prices for sewing that they pay in New York, could sustain his argument if certain work for which Atlanta women are called upon to pay New York prices were compared to the same done in New York for the same price, but still it is an open question.

Miss Horne's Card Party.

Miss Hortense Horne was hostess yesterday morning at a delightful card party, twenty-four young ladies enjoying to the fullest her hospitality. The first prize, a silk scarf, was won by Miss Mary Deas Tupper, and Miss Ellie Patterson won the consolation, a hand-painted pin tray. A delicious luncheon was served after the game.

Spencer-Kline.

THE wedding of Miss Xenie May Spencer and Mr. Brooks Kline, which took place Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents on Georgie avenue, was a beautiful and impressive occasion.

The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Atwood and was witnessed by the family and intimate friends.

The house was decorated with a profusion of pink carnations and ferns, and at the conclusion of the ceremony the guests were entertained at an elegant reception. The tables were decorated with pink carnations and pink candles, this color being used throughout the entire house.

The bride's gown was of white embroidered chiffon and she carried pink carnations. Her going away gown was a stylish tailor suit of tan cloth with hat to match.

Mrs. Kline is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer and has a host of friends in the city who regret to know that her home in the future will be in Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. Kline is with the publishing company of P. F. Collier & Son, of Jacksonville, and is a popular young business man of that place.

Ball at Lookout.

The opening ball of Lookout Inn, which will take place next Saturday evening, August 2, promises to be a brilliant occasion.

These balls are always attended by a large party of Atlantans and a number of people from here intend going up on Saturday and staying over Sunday.

Great Artists Coming.

Atlanta people who attended the performance of "Lohengrin" by the Grau Opera Company last fall will remember with delight the work of Herr Andreas Dippel. He was an ideal Lohengrin in voice, presence and action, and the announcement that he will tour the country in recital this winter will be received enthusiastically by his opera audiences.

Mme. Zelie DeLusson is another famous singer who proposes to display the versatility of her powers by deserting grand opera the coming season and singing in concert instead. Already the general musical interest attaches to these two prospective engagements.

Meetings.

The Atlanta South Side Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its regular session at the residence of Mrs. E. J. LaHatte, 33 Garnett street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. T. C. Riley, of Chicago, will talk of the Temperance hospital and substitutes for alcohol used by staff physicians. All those interested in the subject are invited to attend.

Greenville, S. C.

Greenville, S. C., July 30.—(Special.)—The presence in Greenville of Mrs. Don Pardee and Miss Newman, two charming Atlanta society women, has made the raison d'etre of a number of brilliant social affairs for the past week. As the guest of the Misses Cleveland they were entertained by Mrs. H. D. Wilkins at the Kins villa in West Greenville.

On Tuesday afternoon the Misses Cleveland entertained the society folk of the city in honor of their guests. It was the crowning social function of a series of brilliant affairs which have made this season an exceptonally gay one.

Mrs. H. D. Wilkins, Mrs. Hamlin Beattie, Mrs. Jesse R. Smith and Mrs. E. F. Bates assisted the young hostesses. Ices and cakes were served from the dining room, which had been beautifully decorated with roses. This reception fittingly inaugurated the week of festivity.

Mrs. F. P. Dill entertained the Thursday Card Club on Thursday afternoon at her home on Washington street at a game of duplicate whist. Miss Emma Orwin, of Dayton, Ohio, who is the charming guest of Mrs. Dill, was the guest of honor of the occasion.

Mrs. John Russell opened her lovely home Wednesdy afternoon to a few chosen friends, who enjoyed a game of cards in the shaded, cool rooms, where palms and delicate growing vines give a freshness that is delightfully refreshing on a sultry July day. Mrs. Pardee and Miss Newman were the guests of honor.

An entertainment of rare pleasure was given on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Frank C. Owens opened her lovely house to half a hundred ladies complimentary to Mrs. Toomer, of Waycross, Ga., and Mrs. Pardee and Miss Newman, of Atlanta. Five-handed euchre was played.

A recent welcome addition to the social and higher life of Greenville is Mrs. William G. Sirrine nee Miss McLeod, of Asheville, N. C., whose marriage to Willim G. Sirrine, of this city, on July 9 caused her removal here. Mrs. Sirrine has been a central figure of attraction at the several social affairs of the month, where she is winning hosts of friends.

NO READER WAS ELECTED.

The By-Laws of the Christian Science Church May Be Changed.

Owing to contemplated changes in the by-laws of the Christian Science church, no reader was elected last night to succeed Mrs. Livingston Mims, whose resignation has taken effect. The election will take place next Monday night.

At last night's meeting it was decided to amend the by-laws of the church relative to elections and changes. In future, all changes in the by-laws and all elections will be made by ballot.

On motion of Mrs. Mims, the matter of incorporating the by-laws of the mother church into the by-laws of the local church, "with an interpretation," was referred to a secret committee which will report back at a meeting to be held Monday night. This action will have a direct bearing on the election of readers every three years, and for that reason it was decided to take no ballot until Monday night.

THE EQUIPMENT

In a School Is as Necessary as Tools in Work.

Not many of our female colleges furnish equipment for college work, because of the expense and labor involved. Lack of suitable equipment is perhaps the chief defect in southern schools. Recognizing this fact, the Southern Female college at College Park has sought to provide the necessary appliances of instruction.

This institution at present has a library of about 4,000 selected volumes, museum of about 7,000 specimens, apparatus for physics, a 6-inch telescope, laboratories for general and analytical chemistry, an arboretum, art studios supplied with casts and models, forty-six pianos lately purchased, pipe organ, and orchestral set of instruments and gymnasium.

The dormitory is provided with elevator, steam heat, hot and cold water on every floor, baths, tower clock, and infirmary.

The college, moreover, has a faculty who can use the academic equipment to best advantage. For catalogue address Charles C. Cox, College Park, Ga.

Sunday School Celebration.

Madison, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The annual union celebration of the Sunday schools of Morgan county occurred here today at the fair grounds. Every section of the county was represented, and a large crowd was in attendance. An admirable programme had been arranged, and was carried out perfectly. Hon. J. B. Hunnicutt, of Atlanta, was speaker of the day, and he made a very effective and interesting talk. He was introduced by Judge H. W. Baldwin, of this city. Many songs and recitations by the different schools made the occasion very entertaining, and sumptuous basket dinners of all kinds of eatables spread on the ground, were partaken of with a keen relish by the hungry crowd, causing the time to pass very pleasantly. It was the annual, old-fashioned gathering of the people, and was greatly enjoyed by every one present.

Hereafter the monthly amount will be $44,052.75, the assessment according to membership. Only $25,000 is to be sent for July because the miners were out half of the month. Negro Was Drunk.

Tifton, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Quite a ripple of excitement in Tifton yesterday afternoon was caused by a drunken negro. A woman guest at the Klondike restaurant noticed a negro at her door about noon and became alarmed from his strange actions. She told him to leave her room, after asking what he wanted. He left, but came back twice within a half hour's time, the last time, opening her door and entering, and shutting it behind him. She gave the alarm and he was caught and given a commitment trial. The lady positively identified him as the right man. He was bound over to the county court under a bond of $200 to answer the charge of misdemeanor. For a while it seemed as if the negro might be dealt with by citizens, but they decided to leave it with the courts.

C., and Secretary Erwin today decided that the company would build a cotton mill on the Cape Fear river, in Harnett county, North Carolina, to employ 2,000 persons. The plant will manufacture denim and will operate 70,000 spindles and 2,000 looms. BOND COMPANY SUED BY BANKS

Claims Amounting to Over Twelve Thousand Dollars Are Filed.

BALTIMORE COMPANY HAS REFUSED TO PAY CLAIMS

Suits Result from Alleged Defalcation of Two Bank Cashiers, One at Bainbridge and Other at Arlington.

Two suits, aggregating a total of more than $12,000, have been brought against the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, of Baltimore, in the United States circuit court here, and were yesterday filed with Clerk O. C. Fuller.

The larger of the two is brought by the First national bank of Bainbridge for the amount of $10,000. The other is by the Bank of Arlington, Ga., to recover the amount of $2,632.46.

Both suits are to recover amounts alleged to have been embezzled from the banks by the cashiers, the guaranty company being bondsman in both cases.

In the case of the First national bank of Bainbridge it is claimed in the petition that R. G. Hartsfield, who was cashier of the bank from March 31, 1901, to December 23, 1901, "fraudulently and secretly appropriated to his own use funds of the bank intrusted to him as its cashier the sum of $10,035,87," during the time that he held the position of cashier.

It is alleged that Hartsfield delt heavily in lumber, doing business under the trade name of the Southern Lumber Company, which company, the petition claims, was no company nor a corporation, but only a trading name used by Hartsfield as a disguise.

It is alleged that Hartsfield bought under the name of the Southern Lumber Company an immense amount of lumber in car-load lots at different times. It is claimed that he loaned the money of the bank to this lumber company, with which money the lumber was purchased.

It is further alleged that large sums were loaned to other parties, and notes were taken by Hartsfield indorsed by the Southern Lumber Company.

No Right to Loan Money.

The bank claims in the petition that Hartsfield had no right to lend money to any one in excess of $50, without the approval of the directors of the bank, and especially, it is claimed, he had no right to lend funds of the bank to himself, or to himself under the disguise of the name of the Southern Lumber Company.

It is stated in the petition that the Fidelity company was notified by the bank of Hartsfield's alleged shortage, and that the company sent its agent to the bank on January 2, 1902, who investigated the condition of the books, and that if this agent made a correct report to the company he reported the shortage as claimed by the bank.

John E. Donaldson, of Bainbridge, and Howard Van Epps, of Atlanta, are attorneys for the Bainbridge bank, and Smith, Hammond & Smith are attorneys for the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company.

R. G. Hartsfield is an attorney, and was for a number of years located in Atlanta.

In the suit brought by the Bank of Arlington, Ga., against the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company it is alleged that Henry G. Grey, who was cashier of the bank from January 1, 1901, to March 31, 1902, is a defaulter to the amount of $2,632.46, and that the Fidelity company, being his bondsman, is due the bank this amount.

It is claimed that the bank gave notice to the bond company in good time, and that the bank has acted strictly in accordance with the rules and obligations binding it, but that the bond company has refused to pay the amount of Grey's alleged shortage.

The total amount of his bond was $7,500, but the bank is suing only for the amount of his alleged shortage.

Howard Van Epps is attorney for the bank, and Smith, Hammond & Smith are attorneys for the Fidelity company.

In neither petition is the reason given for the refusal of the bond company to pay the amounts which the banks claim are due them. Notice has been served on the bond company of both proceedings, and the cases will come up for trial at the next session of the United States circuit court.

ON TRIAL FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

Cashier Lawrence Pulliam Surrenders to Officers.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 30.—A special to The Sentinel from Asheville, N. C., says Lawrence Pulliam, formerly cashier of the National Bank of Asheville, is now on trial there on the charge of embezzling $7,200. In 1898 he disappeared and after a long absence gave himself up to officers in California and was brought back to Asheville. Pulliam's defense is pleading temporary insanity and expert testimony is being introduced to that end.

SHORT ITEMS CONCERNING MEN AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

HON. W. K. FIELDER, OF CEDARtown, recently nominated for solicitor general of the Tallapoosa circuit over W. T. Roberts, was in the city yesterday and spent some time at the capitol. Mr. Fielder says there is not likely to be any opposition in his section of the state in the regular election to any of the candidates nominated in the primary.

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE O. B. Stevens is greatly improved, according to reports received yesterday. He is anxious to come to Atlanta without further delay, but his physicians forbid his leaving his home until Monday, though he is now out of bed. He expects to be in his office in the capitol the first of the week.

THE ALLEGED CRAZY MAN WHO is said to have attempted an attack on Transfer Guard Ben Pearson, of the prison commission office, some time ago, was at the capitol again yesterday and made things interesting for several of the officials for a time. His ecentricities, however, meant nothing more nor less than that he wanted 10 cents or something of that kind to enable him to satisfy a craving, whether for liquids or solids was not stated. One of the capitol guards told him he had better leave the building and stay away. He went at once on the invitation and promised not to come back.

DR. EUGENE FOSTER, OF AUGUSTA, president of the board of trustees of the state sanitarium, was in the city yesterday in the interest of that institution, and during the day visited Governor Candler at the capitol. Recently through some accident or other a case of smallpox got into the state sanitarium from Cherokee county. It happened, it is claimed, through the carelessness of the county officials. The patient went into a ward where 400 others were confined. Dr. Foster at once took hold of the matter and stamped out the disease in a few weeks. Out of the 400 inmates in the ward there were only thirteen cases and not a single death.

FIVE NEW PRISONERS ARRIVED at the federal prison yesterday after a personally conducted trip from McAlester, Ind. T. They are George and Julius McCullagh, James Carroll, W. O. Dees and Joseph Kidd. All are sentenced for two years. The brothers McCullagh and Carroll were convicted of perjury, while Dees and Kidd are serving time for assault with intent to murder committed in the Territroy. Kidd is a negro.

R. H. MORSE WILL GIVE AN ILlustrated lecture Thursday at 8 p. m. at Barclay mission, 177 Marietta street. Admission free. The public invited.

R. P. ARNOLD, OF CRAWFORD, GA., through his attorneys, S. C. Upson and H. C. Tuck, filed a petition of bankruptcy in the United States district court yesterday. In the petition he gave his liabilities at $4,098, and his assets at $2,515.

SHERIFF T. J. WILLIAMS, FROM Vernon, Tex., was in the city yesterday, after having carried to Bartow county James Mayfield, a white man wanted there for murder. Mayfield killed a woman in Bartow county about three years ago and made his escape. He was indicted for murder and Governor Candler offered a reward of $150 for his capture, with proof to convict. Sheriff Williams captured Mayfield out in Texas and delivered him to the Bartow county authorities. Yesterday the Texas sheriff called on Governor Candler to collect the reward, and was considerably disappointed when he learned he would have to await the result of the trial. Governor Candler explained that he never offered a reward for a mere arrest, but stated that under the law the party for whom the reward is offered must be convicted of a felony before the reward can be paid. The sheriff then started on his return trip to Texas to await the law's delay.

ATLANTA FIRE INSURANCE MEN are interested in the reinsurance of the Merchants, of Newark, by the National, of Hartford. The Merchants, though it has not been represented in this territory for some years, at one time was a strong factor here when it was represented here by Major John W. Whitner. Heavy losses in the Paterson fire were among the chief causes of the reinsurance deal.

CLARENCE PERKINS, THE MAN charged with kidnaping his own child, will be given a preliminary hearing before Judge Orr at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Considerable interest has been manifested in the case, and the hearing promises to be one out of the ordinary.

FRANK A. WHITE, THE YOUNG man who attacked his sweetheart, Mrs. Lula Cook, on the street Tuesday night and tore her clothes into shreds, was fined $50.75 by the recorder yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Cook disliked testifying against the young man and did not tell any more than she could help. White admitted that he tore at the woman's clothes, but claimed that he "grabbed the clothing and she tore them by trying to pull away." Before she left Mrs. Cook arranged about the payment of White's fine and the young man was held over at police barracks until this morning.

IN THE RECORDER'S COURT YESterday morning Gordon Johnson, a small white boy, was arraigned for sleeping on the street at night. The boy's father stated in court that the boy had a peculiar affliction which made him become drowsy at most unexpected times, and wherever he was when he felt sleepy he sat down and slept. He had been known to sleep while carrying a message. He has slept while playing baseball and while a game of baseball was going on. The recorder dismissed the case.

HENRY BECKHOLD, THE SOLDIER who had his throat cut in a house on Collins street Tuesday night, was transferred from the Grady hospital to the fort yesterday morning. He stated that he cut his own throat and the woman arrested in the case was released.

REV. T. C. CARTER, D.D., OF CHATtanooga, Tenn., a noted lecturer and divine, will preach tonight at the People's Union tabernacle tent, on McDaniel street. The tent is located one block southeast of Whitehall street.

OTIS HAMBERG DIED AT THE Baptist Tabernacle infirmary, on Spring street, yesterday morning, after being ill for about a week with typhoid fever. He was a member of the Barbers' Union and the Capital City lodge, No. 60, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the members of which lodge will have charge of the funeral services, which will be held in the chapel of Barclay & Brandon this morning. Arrangements for the burial have not yet been made.

J. S. BROOMHEAD DIES.

One of Atlanta's Oldest Citizens Passed Away at His Home Yesterday.

J. S. Broomhead died at his residence, 464 Whitehall, at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Broomhead was one of Atlanta's oldest and most respected citizens. He was born and reared here, and has made the city his home all during his life.

At the time of his death he was not engaged in active business, but was a retired capitalist.

For a number of years he was the senior member of the firm of Broomhead & Street, which did a general contracting and building business.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, one 13 and the other 17 years old. Mrs. Malcom Johnson is his sister.

The funeral services will be conducted by Dr. Landrum at the home at 10 o'clock this morning.

The following gentlemeh will act as pallbearers: Henry Hillyer, R. A. Redding, S. T. Weyman, Dr. A. Dawson, W. L. Hancock, W. C. Lawrence and Walker Dunson.

The interment will be at Westview cemetery.

General Lewis Withdraws.

Jackson, Tenn., July 30.—General Lewis, of Henry, created much talk in political circles by announcing his withdrawal from the race for congress in this (the eighth) congressional district. It was generally believed by his supporters here that he was gaining ground in his race for the democratic nomination.

MYSTERIOUS THIEF CAUGHT

Rogue Who Stole Grips from Depot Bagged by Detectives.

WAS WITH A GANG OF HOBOES

J. E. McGrath, a Birmingham Citizen, Turns Out To Be the Mysterious Swiper of Grips at the Depot.

The mysterious "Union Depot Grip Stealer" has, at last, come to grief. For many months the police have been worried by almost daily reports about grips being stolen at the depot from waiting rooms and from trains. The thief managed to escape detection, although all sorts of traps were laid to catch him. He was finally bagged by two city detectives, assisted by John Barley Corn. The slick rogue tackled some mean liquor before he had relieved himself of his last grip and he was caught with the stolen property in his hand.

The mysterious grip stealer is J. E. McGrath, who claims to have come to Atlanta from Birmingham several months ago.

Tuesday morning two city detectives discovered a whole gang of hoboes in a saloon, some foreign and some local. The officers were disgusted with the daring deeds of the mysterious depot thief and one of them exclaimed:

"Let's pull the whole gang of hoboes and run them in."

The whole gang was pulled and eleven of the rounders were soon behind the bars.

The officers were surprised to see one of the hoboes holding a fine new grip in his hand. An investigation was made and it was ascertained that the grip was one that had been recently stolen from the depot.

The mysterious depot grip thief had been bagged. Yesterday afternoon Recorder Broyles bound him over to the state courts in a $200 bond for larceny from the house. McGrath stated that he could tell who stole the grips, but he wouldn't.

CLEMENCY IS GRANTED TWO

Governor Pardons Wiley Freeman, Sent Up for Manslaughter.

IMPORTANT CASES ACTED ON.

Pardons Were Refused in a Number of Cases, Some of Them Involving Homicides.

Governor Candler exercised executive clemency in two cases yesterday, but declined it in six or eight others. In all these cases he followed the recommendations of the prison commission.

The sentence of Wiley Freeman, of Bibb county, who was convicted in September, 1900, of voluntary manslaughter and given five years in the penitentiary, was commuted to present service, which amounts to a pardon, as he will be released at once. The prison commission based its recommendation on the probable truth of the prisoner's statement that he was acting in self-defense, and which made out a case of justifiable homicide.

George Ponder was convicted in Glynn county of keeping a disorderly house, and sentenced to pay a fine of $125 and serve nine months on the chaingang. The prison commission recommended that Ponder be required to pay a fine of $250 in lieu of service in the chaingang, and this was approved by the governor. Hon. Boiling Whitfield, of Brunswick, appeared in behalf of Ponder.

Governor Candler, in accordance with the recommendations of the prison commission, refused executive clemency in the following cases:

Pat Connors, sent up from Chatham county for fifteen years for voluntary manslaughter; Mary Durden, of Camden county, sent up for life for murder; Carter Wade, of Chatham county, sent up for five years for assault with intent to murder; Sidney Scott, of Brooks county, sent up for twenty years for manslaughter; Ed Ingram, of Emanuel county, sent up for eight years for assault with intent to murder, and Joe Hoskins and Stephen Canada, sentenced to county chaingangs for misdemeanors.

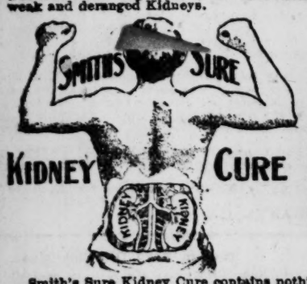
Have You Kidney or Bladder Trouble?

The Case of Mrs. Nancy Ball.

There are no diseases that more quickly and surely derange the entire constitution than Kidney or Bladder trouble, and it behooves every man and woman suffering from these diseases to have themselves cured at once. The body depends upon the Kidneys to throw off the waste matter of the system, and when it fails to do this the result is an interference with digestion, a sudden stoppage of the free circulation of the blood and a serious weakening of the heart. Also rheumatism could not exist if it were not for weak and deranged Kidneys.



Mrs. Nancy Ball, proprietor of the Ball House, Columbia, Miss., says: "I was for a long time a great sufferer from dropsy complicated with Kidney and Bladder troubles; my feet and hands were swollen and at times I was unable to walk about. My family physician had exhausted his skill in the treatment of my case without giving me any relief. I was then induced to give Smith's Sure Kidney Cure a trial and to my utter astonishment the first bottle relieved me, and I am in perfect health and able to attend to all my duties about the hotel. I consider Smith's Sure Kidney Cure the greatest medicine of the age."

Mrs. Nancy BALL, Columbia, Miss.

Smith's Sure Kidney Cure contains nothing harmful but nevertheless it will entirely cure Bright's Disease, diabetes, dropsy, gravel, stone in the bladder, bloated bladder, frequent desire to urinate, pains in the back, legs, sides and over the Kidneys, swelling of the feet and ankles, retention of urine, scalding pain in the bladder, wetting the bed—in short, every form of Kidney, bladder and urinary trouble in man, woman or child.

COTTON HIGHER AT THE OPENING

Improved Further After Call on Scattering Demand from Shorts.

ON TEXAS FLOOD REPORTS

Grain Markets Were Ragged and Rather Dull—Wheat, Oats and Provisions Higher—Corn Lower—Gold Exports Lighter.

New York, July 30.—The cotton market opened steady with prices unchanged to 3 points higher and following the call further improved on scattering demand from the shorts and some outside buying prompted by fresh reports of Texas floods. Philadelphia interests sold August quite freely on the rise and for a time the room was disposed to take the bear side for a turn. Yet the advices of actual damage to cotton in Texas were so positive, and the government advices denoted such heavy precipitation, that the talent switched over to the bull side on the first setback and for the balance of the session supported the market. Splendid rains were reported where needed in the central and eastern sections of the belt and more was promised in the forecast for tonight and tomorrow. The crop reports from points outside of Texas were reasonably bearish and indicated a large yield. Clearances for export were small for the day. The Wall street contingent appeared as large buyers late in the day, and at the close the market ruled steady with prices net 7 points lower on July, but 6 to 7 points higher on the later positions. The relatively easier ruling of July was due to final clearing up of old long accounts and to a natural drawing together of the July and August deliveries. Total sales of futures were about 175,000 bales.

Review of New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, July 30.—There is a better line of offerings in the market for the spot cotton, as factors are uncovering their tables more freely. However, the present attitude of the market is not favorable to a brisk movement. Spinners are holding back for lower prices, and while willing to trade upon the basis of contract values generally, refuse to meet the current demands of the factorage element. Sales 550 bales, including 150 to arrive. Quotations unchanged.

The future market was dull and featureless throughout the day. There was no outside speculative interest, and the heavy local operators took no part in the small transactions. Texas rainfalls continue unabated, and give rise to grave apprehensions as to the present and future welfare of the crop in that state, but per contra, other portions of the belt, and more particularly the Atlantic coast, are being greatly benefited by rains, offering rates more than a counterpoise to the questionable damage being done in Texas. The fluctuations during the day were very slight, the list at 3 o'clock showing a net loss of 5 points on July and a net gain of 1 to 2 points on all the other positions.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, July 30.—All departments of dry goods today were steady and without change in prices. Worsted for men's wear in new lines maintain the advances already reported.

R. M. Seale & Co.'s General Market Letter.

Atlanta, July 30.—Cotton—Liverpool developed a steadier tone today, but failed to enthuse to any great extent on the flood damage reports from Texas. It seems the pressing spot inquiry has been satisfied for the present and visions of poor trade are exercising an unfavorable influence upon foreign traders, regardless of immediate changes in the crop situation. Trading in our market was of an undecided character in the early part of the session, but eventually the Texas floods and reports of continued bad weather in that state stimulated prices and effected a moderate improvement. It is possible that foreigners may ridicule flood damage advices, but when the actual injury is ascertained more serious and substantial consideration may be given to that feature, especially by those figuring on an early and rapid movement from Texas. Another feature which may be observed in this week's bureau shows drought in seven cotton states, and this is too large a number to raise a crop such as has been hinted at by some experts. We therefore advise caution about shorting cotton at the moment.

Stocks—London was weak today, and there were sales on balances amounting to about 15,000 shares. Further engagements of gold amounting to about $3,000,000, and fear of more going out this week had a depressing effect at the opening. Invariably almost all the stocks opened at declines, and after hesitating somewhat, some of the Grangers began an advancing tendency, and the whole list followed to a great extent. St. Louis and San Francisco was exceedingly strong, selling at the highest price touched so far. It was rumored that instead of its becoming one of the roads in the Rock Island system, that the Chicago and Eastern Illinois had taken control of same. The steel stocks were quiet at somewhat easier prices. In the industrial list there seemed to be a waiting market, and all ruled lower. We think stocks purchased today, or having been bought, will show more profit tomorrow and Friday. The exports of gold will have to run up to a great many millions before they can frighten the big men in the market.

Wheat—There was talk of hot weather in the northwest, with buying from that quarter, while Armour was a buyer of September and seller of December. The movement to primary markets is very large, but considerable talk of large export sales caused enough buying to more than wipe out the early decline. The close was comparatively strong, and should the market advance a cent or so more you will hear of larger export takings of this cereal.

Corn was weak early and the declines were attended with considerable liquidation. It was reported that Oklahoma was offering corn for August shipment. Receipts were light today, and estimates light for tomorrow, and with this state of affairs, coupled with the buying that appeared in all the futures by Cudahy's brokers, caused smaller shorts to cover freely, and the close was almost at top figures. It is possible that further advances may be brought about, but they should be met with sales.

Oats—The fact of a marginal price being made on July did not prevent that month from closing at 63c for the new and 47c for the old. It looks as if the corner would be made complete Thursday, the last day. Shorts covered freely in all options, creating advances which were helped along by strength in corn and a good cash demand. The movement promises large for some time to come.

Provisions—Hogs were lower at the yards, and there was further liquidation. Armour was a heavy buyer through commission houses and largely in ribs which is likely to cause values to show further improvement, but do not think the advance can be sustained. On all advances we advise sales.

Remarks—Heavy rains fell in portions of eastern Texas and southwestern Arkansas, ranging in amount from 1.68 to 7.60 inches. Showers occurred in all other districts and were copious in the central portions of the belt, generally light in the eastern districts. The temperature was slightly higher yesterday in the eastern belt and remained about stationary elsewhere.

J. B. MARBURY,
Local Forecast Official.

H. & B. Beer's Cotton Letter.

New Orleans, July 30.—Liverpool advices were not encouraging, consequently our market opened 1 to 2 points lower, but advanced 5 to 6 points subsequently on claims of additional rains in Texas doing damage in the Brazos valley, as that river has overflowed its banks and the water extends a half mile on each side. As soon, however, as this demand was filled, values again eased off, closing 1 to 2 points higher on the day on all months except July, which declined 5 points. Rains were general in Texas and Arkansas and showers fell in other sections of the belt. The predictions are for scattered showers throughout the cotton region tonight and Thursday. Referring to the complaints of excessive damage by rains in Texas, it must be remembered that the same character of advices were circulated two years ago, and while temporarily the injury was considered irreparable it was ultimately the means of making Texas raise a "bumper crop." Therefore, operators think the beneficial results in the end will more than offset any local damage which may take place. It was reported that Houston received 104 bales of new cotton today, which will be returned in the receipts of tomorrow. The monthly bureau will be issued on August 4, and it is the general opinion that the average condition of 84.7 per cent returned on last report ought to be maintained, owing to the general improvement which has materialized since the issuance of same. This will compare to a condition of 77.2 per cent last year and 76 per cent year before last. It is questionable, though, whether these anticipations will be realized, when it is considered that the government reports are always more pessimistic than private advices. The market, however, will continue to be ruled almost entirely by daily weather conditions.

O'Dell & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, July 30.—Cotton futures in the local market today opened steady in tone with first prices unchanged to 3 points higher and for some time afterwards fluctuations were rather erratic and a little uncertain. The near months were predisposed to weakness, and distant options were bullishly influenced by the flood accounts from Texas. Buying orders, however, were sent from here and the foreign shorts abroad turned for cover. Local shorts were big buyers of the October option. However, there was some extensive liquidation in the near months, and this caused a reaction, after which the local bear operators took it upon themselves to attack the new crop months. The south was a light buyer at the start and later inclined its intehest on the long side of the account. Wall street failed to operate very extensively one way or the other, but seemed more disposed to favor the bear side than anything else. The private advices from Texas stated that the whole Brazos valley was flooded, and the situation on the whole was reported to be very serious. Consequently as the session wore on there was a good demand and the market rallied appreciably, but becoming rather nervous, however, on the rise. The spot markets were steady. The local market late in the day was rather mixed with sentiment rather conflicting and based almost entirely upon the weather and crop conditions.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York July 30.—The rains in Texas are incessant and cause comment, and the suggestion that some damage may ensue from them. As yet it is believed little damage has been done, or if done that it will be remedied by good weather to follow. Their persistence will cause anxiety and bring possibly a demand, as the selling in anticipation of a large and early yield has been very liberal. The practical close of the July interest was lacking in sensation. Notices were freely circulated during the forenoon, and the price dropped about 10 points as the necessity for selling arose. Trading has been light in the general list—spiritless at times, but giving a fairly steady market.

Southern Exchange Cotton Letter.

New York, July 30.—The cotton market ruled dull and featureless throughout the session. It was thought that under the strain of bullish crop accounts and the large short interest which has been apparent for the past week, the market would present a stronger attitude today. On the contrary, however, there was no indication of a bull movement. early and the influx of rain reports coming in about noon failed to excite the trade to this side of the market. The excessive moisture in the Texas districts have no doubt retarded picking and it will require several days of dry weather before active work can be resumed. Liverpool was 1 point higher at the opening, but later lost a point. Spots there were weaker at 1-32d decline. Sales 4,000. The continued absence of animation in the market will eventually reveal some new facts in the situation, for it is confidently expected that the trade is holding off at present with a view to bringing about a lower level, but at present they are handicapped by the bullish weather gossip emanating from the southwestern section of the belt.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

New York, July 30.—There was a further contraction of dealings in today's stock market and a decidedly hesitating and fluctuating tone during the day. The professional traders were watchful for a turn in the tide of the market and kept prices fluctuating irregularly over a small range during the greater part of the day. There were no developments of great importance. The additional engagements of gold had been fully expected, and, in fact, turned out to be rather smaller than had been feared. There was evidence of continued liquidation on a large scale during the forenoon, which was attributed to the western party whose operations have come to prove a powerful influence in directing the course of a large speculative following in Wall street. The cessation of this liquidation was followed by scattering demonstrations of strength. The St. Louis and San Francisco securities were very buoyant, which caused a revival of rumors that they are to be taken in under the Rock Island plan. The semi-official intimations of the plan of allotment of the new securities does not provide for this absorption. The movement served, however, to offset to some extent the depressing effect upon the stock market which has been caused by the discussion of reports of the Rock Island plan. The rise in Chicago and astern Illinois and in Chicago and Alton and the firmness of Illinois Central seemed to be related. The abrupt rise in New York Air Brake is characteristic of that stock and was without much sentimental effect elsewhere. Some of the statements of net earnings for June served to rather emphasize the effect of Atchison's decrease reported yesterday. The increased cost of operating showed a tendency to encroach upon increases in gross earnings and in some cases to practically wipe out the gain in gross. The tendency was perceptible in Wabash, in Union Pacific and St. Paul. But this influence was dissipated in the reviving effect of the late rally, in which all of those stocks, and particularly St. Paul, shared. The market became somewhat excited in the last hour on the varying reports current of the scope of a St. Louis and San Francisco and Chicago and Eastern Illinois consolidation. The closing, however, was irregular. The general favorable tenor of the weather bureau's weather crop summary and the favorable weather reports of today were helpful factors in the market. The continued tranquillity of the money market in face of the gold exports, had a reassuring effect upon sentiment. The subtreasury made a liberal disbursement to the money market, and advices from the cattle were received of the deposit of $1,000,000 gold there to be created to New York.

Bonds were dull and irregular until the late rally in stocks, when prices stiffened. Total sales, par value, $2,534,000.

United States old 4s registered advanced ¼ per cent on call.

Commercial Advertiser's Financial Cable.

New York, July 30.—The Commercial Advertiser's financial cablegram says: The idleness in the stock market continues with the tendency irregular. No mining failures were announced today, but assistance is reported to have been given in some cases. Kaffirs were assisted slightly by Mr. Chamberlain's speech.

American stocks sagged early, improved on New York's opening and finally eased off. There were no features.

In money demand was light and will likely remain so for the present. The Bank of England lost heavily.

Gold to the amount of £600,000 has gone to France.

$1,100,000 Engaged for Export.

New York, July 30.—Landenburg, Thalman & Co. have engaged $600,000 gold at the assay office, and Heidelbach, Ikelheimer & Co. have engaged $500,000, making a total of $1,100,000 for export tomorrow.

Murphy & Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, July 30.—The volume of dealings in stocks today was upon about the same scale as on yesterday and the course of prices was decidedly irregular. London was an unimportant factor. After a fairly firm market at the outset traders sold the general list and the western operators were considered responsible for the comparatively large offerings of the Pacific and Granger shares. The selling was based upon expectations that yesterday's extreme estimates of gold exports would be borne out. Later it developed that only a third of this estimate would go out and the professionals did quite a little covering. Strength was displayed in a number of the specialties, including Hocking Valley and Great Western. Late in the day, by an announcement that the first mentioned had leased the latter company, this was explained. In the final dealings the general market became very strong, influenced by buoyancy in St. Paul, which rose nearly 3½ from lowest of the day.

LITTLE ROCK GAME PREVENTED BY RAIN

The Atlanta Team Goes to Shreveport Next.

NINE MORE GAMES ON TRIP

The Remnants Go from Shreveport to Birmingham and Thence to Nashville—Will Return to Atlanta August 11.

The standing of the league, rearranged as follows, is based on the understanding that Memphis has forfeited all games in which St. Vrain, Frank, Evans and Babb have played during their suspension. Under the rearrangement Atlanta comes up from fifth to fourth place.

Southern League Standing.

CLUBS.	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Per Ct.
Nashville	73	53	18	.753
New Orleans	75	48	27	.640
Little Rock	76	47	29	.618
Atlanta	73	40	33	.547
Memphis	77	31	46	.402
Shreveport	74	28	46	.378
Chattanooga	74	28	46	.378
Birmingham	82	24	58	.292

The game between the Remnants and the Travelers was called off yesterday on account of rain. As Nashville is scheduled to play today at Little Rock the postponed game will not be played off on this trip.

Peter's pets will journey to Shreveport and begin the series with the Pirates tomorrow. The rejuvenated Louisianans will prove a hard proposition. The addition of Manager Eddie Ashenback and several North Carolina League players has wonderfully strengthened the former easy things.

Manager Peter seems to have picked up a good player in Hurlburt, the former Chickasaw. His work in the two games he has played with the Remnants has been good. Henley, Wilson and Baker have been pitching well, and if the variegated assortment of cast-offs behind them will get together and accord them fair support in the field and at the bat Atlanta's record on the trip will not be so bad.

Nine games remain to be played before the Remnants seek the haven of rest. From Shreveport the team goes to Birmingham and then to Nashville. On August 11 Manager Peter will give the Atlanta fans an opportunity to see what remains of the former proud Pretzels.

Tail-enders Lose Again.

EWING ON SIDE OF PEACE.

Memphis Attorney Says Southern League Will Move Along Smoothly.

Memphis, July 30.—Caruthers Ewing, attorney for the local baseball association, is quite positive that peace would be restored in the Southern League before any more litigation is aired in the Chattanooga courts. Mr. Ewing is confident that Babb, Evans, St. Vrain and Frank will be allowed to take part in all future games with the league, and with the full consent of the board of directors.

He is also confident that games which the board of directors counted against the local team for playing and pitching players said to be ineligible, will be counted in the club standing as they were won or lost.

LIVINGSTON WINS AMATEUR CLASS

Handsome Gold Locket Awarded Chattanooga Man.

TIED THE FAMOUS CROSBY

Today Begins the Live Bird Handicap Events Open to All Comers. Shoot Is Meeting with Even Greater Success Than Was Expected.

The men behind the shotguns had a big day at the Atlanta Gun Club shoot yesterday. The target events for the week were concluded, and Captain John Livingston, of Chattanooga, was awarded the handsome gold locket given by the Peters Cartridge Company for the highest average amateur score for the three days.

Captain Livingston's superb work yesterday was the feature of the shoot. He tied the famous Crosby with the score of 161 breaks out of a possible 175. His average for the three days was 155 2-3. "Burke" was runner up, scoring 154. "Lee," who is really one of the most prominent merchants of Monroe, Ga., followed closely in this contest with 153 2-3. Saucier, of New York, came third with 150 2-3. Crosby, Eick and Money were debarred from this competition on account of being professionals, but only Crosby surpassed Livingston's average.

Holly Thompson again shot with the experts, and the boy's work was very creditable.

Charley Harris, who has managed the meet so successfully, in a characteristic speech presented the various prizes at the conclusion of the day's sport. Harris is one of the best shots in the country, but has by reason of his official duties been prevented from entering the target events. He will, however, participate in the live-bird shooting which begins today.

Following is yesterday's target score:

Live Bird Events Today.

Today will begin the live-bird handicap events, open to all comers. Entrance fees will be charged, and the purses thus accruing will be divided—50 per cent to the winner, 30 per cent to the second man and 20 per cent to the third. As the number of entries is large, these purses will be well worth winning.

A handicap committee to be selected by the president and the board of directors of the gun club will determine the marks from which the entries will shoot.

Today's programme is as follows:

Event No. 1—Five live birds; entrance $5.

Event No. 2—Eight live birds; entrance $8.

Event No. 3—Ten live birds; entrance $10.

BONNIBERT WINS ISLIP HANDICAP

Also Lowers Track Record for Mile and Furlong.

TOM KENNY TAKES THE PLACE

Contend, Extreme Outsider, Is Third. Bonnibert's Performance Wonderful, as He Carried 120 Pounds — Only One Favorite Wins.

New York, July 30.—Frank Farrell's Bonnibert, with J. Martin in the saddle, won the Islip handicap at Brighton Beach today and also lowered the track record for 1 mile and a furlong. The previous record was held by Watercure, 1:51 1-5, made July 18, 1900, at the same track. The time was 1:51 flat, and Bonnibert's performance was wonderful, as he carried 120 pounds. Martin rode a good race on him, nursing him for over half the journey and then sending him to the front, having a little speed left with which to stall off Tom Kenny, the determined challenger in the stretch.

The winner was an odds on favorite and Tom Kenny and Ten Candles were well played to beat him, while Contend was the extreme outsider. Contend made the running to the turn out of the back stretch, where Martin sent his mount to the front, and in doing so slightly interfered with Contend, who then dropped back. In the stretch Tom Kenny closed very strong, but was never able to catch the leader, who won by a half length. Tom Kenny was four lengths in front of Contend. Contend pulled up lame.

BLIND STALLION RHYTHMIC WINS THE $5,000 STAKE

Columbus, O., July 30.—Eighteen hard-fought heats were decided on the second day of the Columbus Grand Circuit meeting and the racing was the most sensational ever witnessed on the local track. The 2:09 pacers made a world's record for a six-heat race, the average time for the six miles being exactly 2:06. Three heats of this race were paced on Monday and when the event was taken up today Fred S. Wedgewood had two heats to his credit and Captain Sphinx one. Wedgewood was an even money favorite, but he did not have his usual speed and Dan R took three straight heats and the race. The track was heavy. The horses were compelled to go long miles and under the circumstances Dan R's first heat in 2:06¼ was equal to a mile in 2:05, or better. He paced the last quarter of the sixth heat in 30½ seconds.

The 2:12 trot went through seven heats, each of which was bitterly fought.

The blind stallion Rhythmic, winner of the M. & M. stake, outclassed his field in the $5,000 stake for 2:23 trotters and won as he pleased.

The 2:19 trot was postponed until tomorrow, after Ella Lee and Miss Johnson had each taken a heat.

It was announced today that Myron McHenry will drive the unbeaten pacer, Dan Patch, 2:03¾, a mile to beat 2:01¼, the record of his sire, Joe Patchen, on the final day of the meeting, next Saturday. Summary:

2:09 pace, purse $2,000, three heats on Monday: Dan R won fourth, fifth and sixth and the race; Fred S. Wedgewood, second, winning first and second heats; Captain Sphinx, third, winning third heat. Best time, 2:05¼.

2:12 trot, purse $2,000: Hawthorne won fifth, sixth and seventh heats and the race; Leola second, winning second and third heats; Dan T, third, winning fourth heat. Borden won first heat. Best time, 2:10¼.

2:10 trot, purse $1,200, unfinished: Miss Johnson won second and Ella Lee first heat. Best time, 2:16½.

2:23 trot, purse $5,000: Rhythmic won three straight heats and the race; Patchen Maid, second; Lauretta, third. Best time, 2:12¼.

2:15 pace, purse $1,200: Pearl Lester won second and third heats and the race; J. C. T., second, winning first heat; Dick Wilson, third. Best time, 2:12¼.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Grant defeated Chance Thornton yesterday in the Atlanta Athletic Club championship tennis tournament. The score of the match was 6-4, 6-0. Grant will meet Scott today in the final round and the winner of this match will be met by Sam C. Williams, who will defend his title to the club championship in the singles. In the doubles Broyles and Grant defeated Byrd and Tichenor, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5. The match between Peters and Daniels and Broyles and Grant was cut short by darkness, with the score standing 6-3, 3-2, in favor of the former team.

The Atlanta Athletic Club baseball team will play the nine of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company Saturday at Piedmont park. Both teams have been practicing regularly and a good game is expected.

Captain George Costello, of the Cornell 'varsity nine, announces that "Billy" Dineen, the Boston American League pitcher, is to enter Cornell university next year for a course in the college of forestry. With Dineen and "Christy" Mathewson in college, and "Hughey" Jennings, of the Philadelphia National League team, as coach, the Cornell baseball players look forward to a season unsurpassed in Cornell's history. Mathewson announced his intention of entering college last fall while visiting Hugh Jennings here. "Matty" will take the course in forestry also.

Gold Heels has a clean title to being the horse of the year and also as one of the greatest horses the American turf has ever seen. His record for the year, winning the Advance stakes, Suburban handicap and the Brighton cup, is without a parallel in the history of the turf on this side. It is too bad that this great horse pulled up lame in his last effort, and it is to be hoped that the injury is not of a serious nature. Gold Heels is slated to carry the top weight in the Saratoga handicap, which will be run next Monday. It would certainly be a great achievement if he could pick up the 129 pounds and take that $10,000 stake.

Charley Dexter, the old Evansville Southern Leaguer, was released by the Chicago management Tuesday. Dexter is recognized as the best utility man in the National League today. His release by Chicago is largely due to differences between him and Manager Selee arising out of the failure of Dexter to land the captaincy of the team in the spring.

The scores of the National League games Tuesday and yesterday show a wonderful series of coincidences. Here they are: Tuesday—Cincinnati 2, Pittsdelphia 1; Boston 6, Chicago 1; Pittsburg 14, Brooklyn 1; St. Louis 5, New York 1. Wednesday—Brooklyn 5, Pittsburg 1; New York 2, St. Louis 1; Chicago 3, Boston 1; Chicago 1, Boston 0. In seven of the games the losers scored only one run while in the Chicago-Boston game yesterday Chicago crossed the plate once and the Bean Eaters were shut out.

Sammy Strang has struck out an even forty times this season. He has done equally well at getting first on a pass, having drawn a base on balls forty times.

Columbus 2, Rome 1.

Columbus, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—In the prettiest game ever seen on the Columbus diamond, the locals defeated the Rome, Ga., ball team today by a score of 2 to 1, Columbus making two runs in the ninth inning. Patton, a former Roman, pitched for Columbus, Hulsey, of Rome, being in the box for the visitors.

An effort is being made to arrange another series between Columbus and Augusta on neutral grounds, with a league umpire. If arranged the games will be played in Macon.

LEANDER IS BEATEN BY DUER.

Leander Would Have Won but for an Accident.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 30.—At the Coliseum tonight a three-cornered 5-mile motor-paced heat race took place between Ray Duer, of Buffalo; George Leander, of Chicago, and James Hunter, of Newark. In the fifth mile of the first heat the chain on Leander's pace broke, but he rode straight on, winning second place with Duer first, Hunter third. Time, 7:51. Leander won the second heat. Time, 7:53 4-5. Duer second. Leander won the final heat. Time, 8:07 4-5.

The 2-mile motor tandem race between Daly and Babcock and Boake and Thompson was won by the former team. Time, 3:20 1-5.

COUP CREDITED TO FRISCO SYSTEM

Control of Chicago and Eastern Illinois Claimed for It.

OFFICIALS REFUSE TO TALK

Rock Island Incorporation Complete. Transportation Club to Meet. Appointments on Coast Line Announced — Other Railway Notes.

New York, July 30.—Reports from San Francisco received here this afternoon state that the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad has acquired control of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

Two directors of the Frisco who were seen refused to confirm or deny the report. H. H. Porter, who represents the controlling interests in the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, declined to discuss the matter at all.

The San Francisco dispatches stated also that control of the St. Louis and San Francisco road now rested with the Southern. A representative of J. P. Morgan & Co. denied this last report.

President Yoakum, of the St. Louis and San Francisco, would not talk about the alleged deal and all other interested parties take the same attitude.

The terms of the lease, according to report, are that certificates of control will be issued in exchange for existing Chicago and Eastern Illinois stock on the basis of approximately two and one-half certificates for one share of stock.

These certificates are to bear 4 per cent interest and will be a direct obligation of the Frisco, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois stock being the collateral for such.

Rock Island Incorporated.

New York, July 30.—Articles of incorporation of the Rock Island Company were filed in Jersey City today. The capital stock is placed at $150,000,000, and a fee of $30,000 was deposited with the county clerk of Hudson county, New Jersey.

The stock is divided into 54,000 shares of preferred and 960,000 shares of common. The purpose of the corporation is to be:

"To acquire, purchase and hold subscriptions, stocks, bonds, securities, shares and other evidences of corporations generally and to merge corporations one into another."

Dividends of 4 per cent on preferred stock are guaranteed up to 1903 and of 6 per cent from that time up to 1916.

In the articles of incorporation the agent of the stockholders is the Commercial Trust Company, of this city. The incorporators are Robert F. Ross, J. A. Tennant, Walter McDermott, George R. Tracy, R. F. Tully, John W. Hardenberg, Oscar L. Gubleman, William J. Field and George T. Boggs. These are all directors of the Commercial Trust Company. Each of the incorporators is credited with fifty shares of stock.

MRS. MERRELL IS DECLARED INSANE

Was Her Second Trial for Lunacy Within Two Weeks.

WAS SANE THE FIRST TIME

Husband Cried When He Saw Her After the Investigation Yesterday Afternoon in Ordinary's Court—Will Be Sent to Milledgeville.

For the second time within the past two weeks Mrs. Laura Merrell, of McPherson, was before the ordinary yesterday on a writ of insanity. At the first hearing the jury decided that she was sane, but the jury yesterday rendered a verdict to the effect that she was of unsound mind and a fit subject for the asylum. She was ordered sent to the Tower, where she will be kept until there is room for her at the state institution at Milledgeville.

The former writ was taken out by members of the family, while the last one was signed by three neighbors, who petitioned for a lunacy trial. Mrs. Merrell was brought to the ordinary's office and was kept in one of the private rooms, where she was seen by the members of the jury. After the hearing her husband, E. D. Merrell, went into the room and the meeting between the two was an affecting one. The husband cried as if his heart would break and seemed very much concerned about the matter.

Witnesses stated during the hearing that last Friday evening Mrs. Merrell leaped from her window, clad only in her robe de nuit, went to a near neighbor's, and, opening a window, climbed into the room occupied by a young girl. The girl, waking and seeing the intruder, was so badly frightened that she almost had hysterics and has not yet recovered from her fright. Later, it was stated, Mrs. Merrell went to the United States barracks and told the members of the guard that her husband was after her. She said she feared he would do her bodily injury.

Seek Money from Sale.

Bluthenthal & Bickart, through their attorneys, Slaton & Phillips, yesterday filed proceedings in the superior court asking that they be declared the ones to receive a fund of $180 in the sheriff's hands resulting from the sale of certain perishable property which was disposed of under a mortgage they held against Mrs. Ida McDonald. They also ask that injunction be issued against the action for damages which Mrs. McDonald brought against them in the city court, and that they be allowed a set-off against any damages which she may recover against them in the case. Judge Lumpkin issued a temporary restraining order and set the case for a preliminary hearing September 13.

It is set forth, in the papers in the case, that August 20, 1898, Mrs. McDonald gave them a mortgage to secure thirty promissory notes, each for $50, payable monthly, the mortgage being a lien on the stock and fixtures of the saloon which then existed at No. 152 Decatur street. On May 30, 1899, it is stated, this mortgage was foreclosed on certain personalty in DeKalb county for $1,418.58 principal and $65.97 interest. This property being of a perishable nature, it was sold, the proceeds, amounting to $180, being placed in the sheriff's hands.

Order Was Modified.

Judge Lumpkin yesterday granted a supplemental order in the case of H. S. Jackson against J. S. Akers, in which he modified the order of July 23, signed by Judge Foster, who acted for the presiding officer of Fulton county, so as to allow certain property of the state to be insured whether in one of Jackson's companies or not. This last order does not in any way affect the main issue, which is to be decided later.

Wants Deed Annulled.

Asking that a deed to certain property on Peachtree road and vicinity be declared void, Jasper N. Smith, executor of the will of George W. Thomason, deceased, and of Sylvania Thomason, yesterday instituted proceedings in the superior court through his attorneys, Arnold & Arnold. It is set forth that the young woman is the adopted daughter of George W. Thomason, who died last May, leaving a will in which he made her his sole heir.

The deed in question is one which conveys property to W. S. Pharr. Mr. Smith asserts that Mr. Thomason was not in proper mental condition to have made such an instrument as the deed is declared to be, and he asks that the transfer be adjudged null. It is alleged that this deed was the result of duress practiced upon Thomason and that it was without any consideration. Before he died, it is stated, Thomason did give stated, Thomason did give Pharr some Pharr some property in return for services rendered.

Ponce de Leon Is Sold.

The deed transferring all the land embraced in what is known as the Ponce de Leon Springs property from the East Atlanta Land Company to the Title Guarantee and Trust Company was filed for record yesterday in the office of Clerk Arnold Broyles, of the superior court. The amount paid for the place was $18,000. Joel Hurt, as president, and W. S. McNemie, as secretary, signed the deed on behalf of the East Atlanta Land Company.

The news of the sale was made public several weeks ago, and it was announced at the time that the new owners would immediately improve the property with a view of making the place one of the handsomest resorts about the city.

LARGE PURSES FOR RACING

Southern Interstate Fair Has Made Generous Appropriations.

TO SELL FORESTRY BUILDING

Directors Will Meet This Afternoon To Pass on the Budget of the Finance Committee.

The board of directors of the Southern Interstate Fair Association will meet this afternoon for the purpose of passing on the budget of the finance committee which was formulated at a recent meeting. It is probable that the budget will be adopted in its present form.

According to the budget made out, the fair will have at its disposal more money for purses and special attractions than any other fair ever held by the association. For purses and premiums $25,000 has been appropriated. Of this amount $10,000 will be hung up for running and trotting races, and this splendid sum insures an excellent racing meet with a large string of fine horses.

The horse show will get $10,000—a sum considerably in excess of the amount spent last year. Atlanta is now in the regular horse show circuit, and the show this year will be a vast improvement on the splendid exhibition of last year.

The special attractions of the fair will be bigger and more varied than ever, and for this feature the committee having it in charge has appropriated $7,500. This is nearly double the expenditures of past years and the net result will be a long list of the very best attractions to be found anywhere.

The directors have decided to sell the old forestry building, which, for some years, has been used as a stable. The reason for this is the fact that the timbers, which had not been dressed, have begun to decay. The building will be disposed of for salvage and will be torn down.

New stables for the racers will be erected in the rear of the machinery hall, where ample room will be had for the accommodation of all horses brought to Atlanta.

HOT WEATHER HINTS.

Something that will protect the health and strength of men, women and children during hot weather is truly a great blessing. A medicine which insures perfect digestion and a healthy stomach is the medicine that will do this. Summer sickness is 99 per cent stomach sickness due to indigestion. Ninety-nine out of every 100 people who are sick in summer can trace it to indigestion. All stomach and bowel troubles, such as Colic, Cholera, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Flux, Bilious Colic and often Fever are the direct results of indigestion.

Summer diet is hard on the stomach and digestive organs. Fermentation resulting from indigestion is the cause of all of the above troubles.

Kodol is the one great remedy which protects the health and strength of men, women and children during hot weather. It is impossible for the stomach and digestive organs to get out of order or fail to perform their functions naturally when Kodol is used. No summer sickness, no indigestion and no stomach trouble can overtake the man, woman or child who will meet first symptoms by the use of Kodol. Sour stomach, belching of gas, heartburn, palpitation of the heart, fullness after eating, loss of appetite, bad breath and coated tongue are some of the symptoms indicating impeffect digestion, and fermentation as the first stage of stomach disorder. Cathartics paralyze the digestive organs, they strain and break down the glands of the stomach and their effect is to weaken the strength and vitality of the system generally. Kodol contains the natural elements of digestion, and removes the cause of the trouble by correcting fermentation.

Kodol corrects fermentation, insures perfect digestion, cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach, gives strength, tone and elasticity to the glands and membranes lining the stomach.

This famous tonic is prepared in the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, whose facilities for the manufacture of Medical preparations are unequaled anywhere in the country.

MUSCOGEE'S BIG INCREASE

Digests That Came Yesterday Somewhat More Hopeful.

INCREASES WAY IN THE LEAD

Muscogee County's Increase More Than $1,500,000—Other Digests Received.

Muscogee county's tax digest was received at the office of Comptroller General W. A. Wright yesterday. The returns in that county show an increase of $1,573,200 over those of last year, the total returns this year being $15,471,640. Last year also Muscogee came forward with an increase of about a million. The increase in this county is due to the large increase in the manufacturing establishments there, a number of new buildings having gone up within the last year and several manufacturing plants being installed.

Clarke county also shows a healthy increase, $191,107. The showing made by these two counties is somewhat more encouraging than have been the digests received within the last two or three days. There are still considerable decreases, however, in counties that last year showed better results.

The digests received yesterday made the following showing:

Increases—Muscogee, $1,573,200; Clarke, $191,107; Bulloch, $26,037; Baldwin, $1,133; Madison, $41,856; Newton, $34,105; Towns, $1,832, and Echols, $53,750. Total, $1,880,020.

Decreases—White, $36,782; Gilmer, $4,873; Montgomery, $21,198; Stewart, $51,550; Pike, $81,511, and Talbot, $21,157. Total, $217,531.

Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, July 30.—The market this morning felt the effect of further flood news from Texas. Some points were alleged to have had as much as 10 inches of rain. Prices, however, failed to move up more than 2 points early in the day. A very conservative view was taken, and there was a disposition to treat the Texas news quite soberly. The possibility of serious damage was admitted, but a go-slow policy was being adopted until the effect of the high water on the crop was known, the ground being taken that serious loss was not a matter of certainty and that later advices may show the situation to be far from serious. Moreover, we are so near the issue of the government report for August that there is a natural desire to see what the government figures will show, although it is quite certain that the result of the flood will not be shown, since the report closed on July 25. An early feature was the execution of buying orders for Wall street account on a more liberal scale than has been the case for some time. Liverpool held its own today, having lost only 1 point, and efforts were made there to depress us, but with little effect. Texas had rain at twenty-five stations, the heaviest, 3.54 inches at Brenham.
